Stage set for Soviet visit

New arms limit proposals aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin will soon be headed for Moscow with new U.S. proposals that could point the way to a long-delayed treaty limiting offensive nuclear weapons.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger completed his outline of the new American position Monday at the White House before leaving on a visit to South America. It was the second session between the two negotiators over the long holiday weekend.

Meanwhile, Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld was quoted by Republican congressional leaders as saying that the Soviets will achieve "massive superiority" over the United States if the Russian arms buildup continues at the present rate without any limitation agreement.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott said Rumsfeld told GOP leaders at a White House meeting today with President Ford that the Soviet buildup is putting the Russians "ahead of the United States in almost every category — except helicopters."

Scott said a U.S.-Soviet agreement

for reducing nuclear weapons could reverse the Soviet superiority. Without detente, there would be a spiraling arms race, Scott added.

Rumsfeld urged GOP leaders to help win congressional approval of the $112 billion defense budget for fiscal 1977, according to Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., chairman of the House Republican Conference.

Unless an unforeseen hitch develops, the relay of the U.S. proposals will set the stage for another Kissinger visit to Moscow within two months to try to nail down final terms that have eluded negotiators for almost 15 months.

The drive for a compromise centers on the Soviet Backfire bomber and the American cruise missile and to what extent, if any, they should be covered by a tentative agreement to hold both powers to 2,400 vehicles that could deliver nuclear weapons.

The administration's pursuit of a treaty now looms as a major political issue. Last week, campaigning in the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary, Ronald Reagan called the cruise missile "a bright spot for us in what has become a growing weapons imbalance" and warned against its limitation.

Last month, on a trip to Moscow, Kissinger received from Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev a proposed package deal that U.S. officials said includes "some significant and constructive new ideas."

Basically, these involved exempting the swing-wing medium range Backfires from the Soviet total provided the bombers are based beyond easy striking distance of the United States.

In the trade off, U.S. bombers could carry cruise missiles with ranges of up to 1,500 miles, with each bomber counting against the U.S. total while strict limits would be imposed on submarine and surface-launched versions of the lowflying drone missiles.

At a news conference last Thursday, Kissinger said after a Soviet reply to the latest U.S. counter proposal is received "we will be able to judge how close we are to an agreement and what the next step should be."

Kissinger holds talks

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is telling Venezuelan leaders not to get their hopes up for a quick end to their nation's exclusion from U.S. trade preferences.

U.S. officials said trade was one of the major topics scheduled for a working breakfast Kissinger had today with Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez and other leaders.

Kissinger's message for this first stop on a six-nation Latin American tour was that he strongly supports trade preferences for Venezuela. But he said he can do no more than hope that Congress will act favorably in the near future.

Venezuela and Ecuador were excluded from the preference system in 1974 because of the oil boycott by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). Although both nations are members of OPEC, neither participated in the boycott, but Congress refused to exempt them from the retaliatory action.

The last national bank failure involved the American City Bank and Trust Co. of Milwaukee last October. The failure of the Franklin National Bank of Long Island, N.Y., in mid-1974 was the biggest bank failure in the nation's history.

Officials said the Chattanooga bank failed under a load of about $34 million in foreclosed loans and another $50 million in questionable loans sold to it by Hamilton Mortgage Co. of Atlanta. "Hamilton-Chattanooga became insolvent because of real estate loans generated by a mortgage subsidiary of the bank's parent holding company," Smith said.

First Tennessee National, with assets of $1.4 billion, will work for restoration of the Chattanooga bank, Terry said. "We bring to Chattanooga the full resources of the largest banking institution in the state."

An army of 150 FDIC agents descended on the bank, its operations center and 22 branches in the Chattanooga area at 3:45 p.m. Monday after

Smith ordered it closed. The action followed a two-month study of the bank's condition.

Officials of the bank, the largest in the crown of Hamilton Bancshares Inc., a bank holding company with assets of $1.1 billion, insisted they were not aware of the action until the federal agents arrived.

Meanwhile, negotiations were conducted late Monday for the sale of Hamilton Bank of Nashville, also owned by Hamilton Bancshares, to Nashville lawyer Frank A. Woods Jr.

Woods' brother, Larry Woods, said the sale was to be consummated at a meeting of Hamilton-Nashville's and Hamilton Bancshares' directors today.

Finis L. Nelson, chairman and president of Hamilton of Nashville, said, however, "The Nashville bank is not tied in any way to the Chattanooga situation."

Hamilton Bancshares also is understood to owe about $80 million to a group of New York banks to which it gave stock in its banks in Tennessee and Georgia.

At Ohio State Fair

Grover new swine superintendent

John F. Evans, general manager of the Ohio State Fair, has appointed Philip L. Grover, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., as the new swine department superintendent at the state fair.

Grover, a community resource development specialist with the Ohio Cooperative Extension service at Ohio State University and formerly Fayette County's agricultural extension agent, replaces A.W. Jordan, of London, who retired at the closing of last year's state fair.

The appointment as the new swine department superintendent means members of the Grover family will continue to spend Phil's vacation time at fairs.

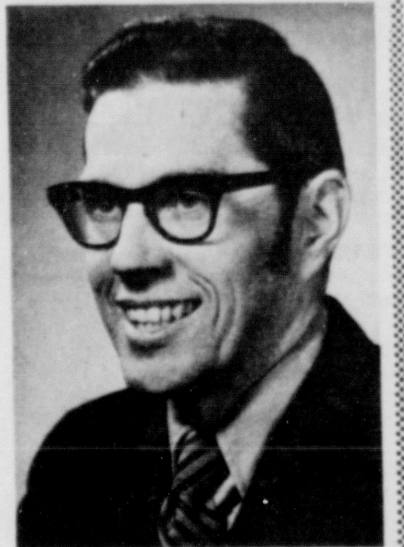

Grover shows Tamworth hogs and Dorset sheep, and has judged swine and sheep shows at three different state fairs and at county fairs.

Grover is a native of rural Highland County and is a graduate of Greenfield McClain High School. He has been an assistant superintendent in the Ohio State Fair sheep department for the past eight years. He was in charge of the department's market lamb show, the world's largest.

A member of the Fayette County Board of Education, Grover is a past president of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club and of the Ohio Cooperative Extension Agents Association.

He and his wife, Mary, have three daughters and raise hogs and sheep on the family's Maple Grove Farm at 2906 Parrott Station Road near Jeffersonville.

Grover will attend a Feb. 24 meeting of the state fair swine exhibitors in the Rhodes Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

County man killed in one-car mishap

NEW HOLLAND — A 33-year-old Fayette County man, Robert A. Carbel of 3125 Washington-Waterloo Road, was pronounced dead on arrival at Fayette County Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning following a one-car accident in Pickaway County.

Pickaway County Sheriff's deputies reported that Carbel, who was en route to work in Clarksburg, was traveling southeast on the New Holland-Clarksburg Road when he lost control of his auto and traveled 108 feet off the right side of the road striking a tree at 7:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Big Chattanooga bank insolvent

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga prepared to open today as First Tennessee National Bank of Chattanooga, a day after the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency declared the bank insolvent, seized it and then sold it.

The bank's assets were purchased by First National Tennessee Corp., a Memphis, Tenn., bank holding company, for $16,251,000, about an hour after the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. seized it at the close of banking Monday.

"Depositors of the failed bank will automatically become depositors of the purchasing bank," the FDIC said.

Ronald Terry, chairman of First Tennessee National, said Hamilton National had deposit assets of about $450 million with about 120,000 depositors.

U.S. Comptroller James E. Smith had identified Hamilton National as one of seven national banks with total assets of $1.7 billion he had mentioned in congressional testimony two weeks ago as having serious problems. He

Community Education funding discussed

School to request land transfer

By GEORGE MALEK

The Washington C.H. Board of Education met Monday night and resolved to request transfer of a 25-acre tract of land adjacent to the Washington C.H. Industrial Park from the Miami Trace School District to the city district.

In other matters, the board accepted a bid for a new school bus and discussed the possibility of obtaining federal funds for the Washington C.H. Area Community Education program.

The city of Washington C.H. accepted annexation of the 25-acre tract owned by the Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Conference in November. In keeping the board of education's policy to maintain identical school district and city corporation boundaries, the board will make application to the state board of education to have the land transferred to the city school district.

Since the tract is currently owned by a church organization, it pays no property tax, and the Miami Trace School District would lose no revenue. If, however, the land is sold at a later time to a non-church organization, it would become taxable.

Community Education program director Hank Shaffer reported to the board that there is some possibility of receiving federal funds for the Community Education program here. Funds were approved by Congress last summer, and applications will be reviewed before awards are made in July.

Shaffer said there will be more than 4,000 community education programs nationwide competing for less than 500 grants, but he felt an application should be submitted. The local program is investigating the possibility of obtaining funding for a community information center. Under the proposal, the Community Education program could serve as coordinating unit for the efforts of a variety of local agencies. These might include City Council's citizens study committee, the Community Action Commission, Help Anonymous and others.

The researchers said an earlier use of CMF "was recently reported to produce complete as well as partial remission in about 50 per cent of patients previously untreated with chemotherapy and to be superior to melphalan on a randomized comparison."

It said the same combination, with the addition of prednisone, had been "demonstrated in an uncontrolled series to have a high order of anti-tumor activity."

The study was conducted by Gianni Bonadonna of the National Cancer Institute of Italy and a team of associates.

In late 1974, the U.S. National Cancer Institute reported a clinical study had found that treatment with combinations of drugs, rather than one drug, produced longer survival times in women with advanced breast cancer.

Bonadonna, at about the same time the U.S. study was reported, said that early results from his then-incomplete study indicated a decreased recurrence rate among women receiving the drug combination.

The World Health Organization has called breast cancer the leading cause of death of middle-aged women in the Western countries.

A combination of three drugs was used to treat women who, during breast surgery, were found to have cancerous lymph nodes, the journal said. The drug treatment involved a combination of cyclophosphamide, methotrexate and fluorouracil (CMF).

In addition, federal funds will be administered through the state to create six to 10 model community education program sites. These sites would host officials of Ohio communities which were considering initiation of a community education program and would like to view an established program in operation. The sites selected (from some 62 in the state) would receive $1,000 to 4,000, Shaffer estimated, to help defray costs and improve programs.

Shaffer said although the chances of receiving such grants were relatively small, applications should be submitted, and board members agreed.

Bids on a new school bus were received by the board of education, and one new bus costing $14,622 will be purchased. The chassis will be ordered from Carroll Halliday, Inc. at a cost of $8,732. The body will be ordered from Edwin Davis and Sons for $5,772. Freight costs will add another $118.

Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor noted to the board that in compliance with federal and state law, the school system will soon begin a survey to locate as many children with learning handicaps in the district as possible. He reluctantly added that although the school may discover many handicapped children through the survey, there is no guarantee that monies will be available to provide them with special assistance.

He explained the pitfall of a law which requires the school to locate such students and then fails to provide funding. Nestor noted that the school system applied to the state for funding of two additional classrooms of handicapped children last year, but the request for aid was denied.

Mrs. Joddy Smalley, school district speech and hearing therapist, presented a slide show of the various types of speech and hearing impediments. The film also explained the role of the school therapist and her relationship to the overall program of assistance for children with such problems.

IN OTHER action, the board: —Approved the purchase of a trampoline for the Middle School. Although it costs $925, the student council will pay $600 of the purchase price;

Gains made in cancer battle

BOSTON (AP) — Italian medical researchers have found a drug treatment they say can lead to drastic reductions in recurrence of disease in women after surgery for advanced breast cancer.

The New England Journal of Medicine, which published the study, said the treatment program could save hundreds of thousands of lives. The journal called the discovery "of monumental importance."

The study was conducted by Gianni Bonadonna of the National Cancer Institute of Italy and a team of associates.

In late 1974, the U.S. National Cancer Institute reported a clinical study had found that treatment with combinations of drugs, rather than one drug, produced longer survival times in women with advanced breast cancer.

Bonadonna, at about the same time the U.S. study was reported, said that early results from his then-incomplete study indicated a decreased recurrence rate among women receiving the drug combination.

The World Health Organization has called breast cancer the leading cause of death of middle-aged women in the Western countries.

A combination of three drugs was used to treat women who, during breast surgery, were found to have cancerous lymph nodes, the journal said. The drug treatment involved a combination of cyclophosphamide, methotrexate and fluorouracil (CMF).

The researchers found that cancer eventually recurred in only 5 per cent of the women who had the treatment, compared with 24 per cent of those who did not, the report said.

While expressing strong optimism about the findings, the article by Bonadonna said the study lasted only 27 months and noted that the long-term effects of the chemotherapy program are unknown.

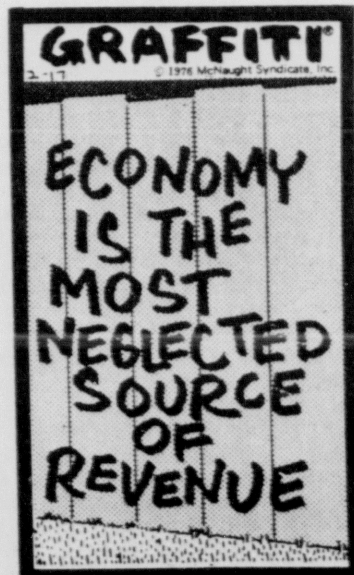

The medical journal said in an editorial the results are "nothing short of spectacular." It said the conclusions "can be accepted with confidence."

It added, "How many hundreds of thousands of lives can be improved, or indeed saved, by application of the present information in the coming decade?"

Bonadonna said despite technical advances in the past decades and other new approaches for treating breast cancer, "the over-all cure rate has remained essentially unchanged for at least 30 years."

The researchers said they found several side effects during the therapy, including loss of hair, loss of appetite, conjunctivitis and an end to menses. But they said all were reversible in most patients except cessation of menses.

The article said the patients in the study generally tolerated the side effects well and "most working women continued to work during the entire period of chemotherapy."

Deaths, Funerals

Joseph Hess

Joseph Hess, 80, of 1317 Mark Road, was pronounced dead on arrival at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Hess, a retired butcher since 1956, was born in Germany, and moved to Dayton, Ohio at the age of 18. He has resided on the Mark Road for several years. He was a member of St. Colman's Catholic Church in Washington C. H. His wife, the former Magdalene Sucker, died in 1972.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Mary Gornes, Mrs. Dorothy Herzog and Mrs. Rita Bauer, all of Dayton, and Mrs. Loretta Rooke of Detroit, Mich.; and two sons, Carl B. Hess of 1255 Mark Road, and Joseph Frank Hess of San Mateo, Calif.; 30 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Arrangements for services are incomplete, but will be announced later by the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home.

Interment of the cremains will be made in Sugar Grove Cemetery, Wilmington, at a later date.

Rugged storm rakes Ohio

By The Associated Press

A low pressure area pushing a warm front through northern Ohio left a tornado watch, a flash flood watch and a severe thunderstorm warning in its wake Monday.

Showers and thundershowers were expected to end this morning, but up to two inches of rain caused flooding along small streams and tributaries, especially near Lake Erie, and along rivers in areas unprotected by flood-control levees.

The National Weather Service in Cleveland issued a tornado watch for Mercer, Miami, Montgomery, Preble and Darke counties Monday after a series of storms was spotted stretching 50 miles from northwest Ohio to west central Indiana.

The advisory was echoed by the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City. That warning spoke of the possibility of tornadoes, severe thunderstorms, large hail and damaging winds along a front extending from Illinois to a point 35 miles north-northwest of Dayton.

The Auglaize County sheriff's office said very strong winds, possibly twister strength, struck two miles south of Wapakoneta, knocking down utility poles, trees and causing minor damage to houses and barns.

Residents of Greenville in Darke County reported seeing hail the size of walnuts.

A flash flood watch was issued for northwestern Ohio for Monday night and this morning. Rain over much of the area totaled 1½ inches Monday.

Rockford in Mercer County reported 1.92 inches of rainfall.

A severe thunderstorm warning was issued for Mercer, Darke, Shelby, Miami, Preble and Auglaize counties.

The sheriff's office in Chardon and the highway patrol said many highways and roads were impassable because of high water.

Jobs bill compromise sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders are meeting with President Ford in a search for ways to overcome a massive House lineup that favors a $6.1 billion public works bill that Ford vetoed.

Big labor to support almost any Democrat

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The AFL-CIO appears ready to support almost any Democratic presidential nominee, but George Meany says Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey stands the best chance of defeating President Ford.

Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, called the Minnesota Democrat "the most electable" among the party's possibilities, and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., "a very formidable candidate." But Meany stressed that neither he nor the labor federation was endorsing anyone at this time.

"I'm sure we will give a good deal of consideration to making a choice when the candidates have been chosen," Meany told a news conference Monday. He said the only announced Democratic candidate the AFL-CIO could not support was Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, whom Meany called "a disaster."

Kennedy has removed himself from the race this year, while Humphrey has said he would accept a draft at the convention.

On the Republican side, the 81-year-old patriarch of the labor movement denounced both President Ford and his challenger, Ronald Reagan, as "products of Republican conservatism."

Though the AFL-CIO has adopted a neutral position for the Democratic primaries, Meany said he has encouraged individual unions to take part in electing delegates to assure labor a voice in the convention next July.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., blitized the AFL-CIO executive council meeting which opened Monday.

He promoted his candidacy by meeting with 26 union presidents over breakfast, met with other labor officials at a poolside reception and later was guest of honor at a cocktail party hosted by Steelworkers president I.W. Abel and 10 other union chiefs.

Jackson has endorsements from at least four AFL-CIO vice presidents and is expected to receive more, particularly from the building trades.

State solons vote on student rights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Legislation defining the extent to which school students are entitled to hearings and appeals of suspensions and expulsions is scheduled for a vote in the Senate today.

The bill, which already has passed the House, is a direct response to a U.S. Supreme Court decision holding Ohio's present law unconstitutional.

Both the Senate and House work today after the Presidents' Day holiday weekend. Both chambers were scheduled to convene at 11 a.m.

The nation's high court ruled that Columbus school administrators had improperly suspended several youngsters, when the administrators failed to give them the right to confront their accusers or rebut accusations.

Justice Byron White in the court's majority opinion said that "the state is constrained to recognize a student's legitimate entitlement to a public education as a property interest that is protected by the due process clause, and which may not be taken away for misconduct without adherence to the minimum procedure required by the clause."

The opinion said schools must provide "rudimentary precautions against unfair or mistaken findings of misconduct and arbitrary exclusions from school."

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Sam Speck, R-95 New Concord, establishes that type of procedure.

Under the legislation, pupils could be suspended up to 10 days. But before suspension, the student must be given written notice of the intended suspension, reasons for the suspension and the opportunity to challenge the suspension in a hearing.

The bill provides similar requirements for expulsion but makes a hearing mandatory.

Both suspension and expulsion orders could be appealed to the board of education.

The legislation also provides for emergency removal without prior notice or hearing if the student is adjudged a threat to persons or property. A hearing must be held within 72 hours after the emergency removal.

Each board of education would be required to adopt a code of student conduct specifying the type of conduct which would subject the student to disciplinary action and must post the code in the school.

In introducing the bill, Speck said it aims at guaranteeing constitutional rights while still allowing educators to remove disruptive students.

"The legislation has been criticized by some individuals who have argued that we should not change the present law," he said. "The plain fact is that Ohio's present law has been declared unconstitutional."

Cooper reports increased sales

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Sales improved 3.7 per cent in 1975 to a record $165.2 million compared to $159.4 million a year earlier, Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. said Monday.

Income included $1.3 million from settlement of a tax claim, the company said.

Net income for the 12 months ended Dec. 31 reached $4.4 million or $2.15 compared to a loss of $1.2 million or 85 cents a share in 1974.

Fourth quarter net including the settlement was $2.8 million or $1.42 a share on revenue of $41.2 million compared to $14,883 or three cents a share on revenue of $38.6 million in the last quarter of 1974.

Stock list turns mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed today in the midst of conflicting influences in the economic news.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off about a point and a half, but advances took a slight lead over declines among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said investors had been prompted to do some profit taking by the failure of Chattanooga's Hamilton National Bank, which was declared insolvent over the weekend. Some of its assets and liabilities were acquired by another Tennessee bank.

On the other hand, there appeared to be some encouragement over a slight price reduction by Iran on its heavy crude oil.

Today's early stock prices included Anchor Hocking, up ¼ at 28; Hercules, unchanged at 34½; UV Industries, ¼ higher at 27½, and Texaco, steady at 25 in a 121,000-share block trade.

Ford to streamline intelligence setup

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will unveil his plan to reorganize supervision of the intelligence agencies at a televised news conference at 8 p.m. EST, Press Secretary Ron Nessen announced today.

The plan is for a streamlined intelligence community that will put CIA Director George Bush in position to control all spy agencies, administration officials say.

In advance of the news conference, to be held in the East Room, Ford will hold a 6 p.m. briefing on intelligence for Republican and Democratic leaders of Congress.

The President's actual executive orders and legislative proposals to carry out the plan will not be made public until noon Wednesday, Nessen said.

The news conference will be Ford's first to be broadcast live by television networks since last November.

Administration officials say Bush will be chairman of a small inter-agency panel which will give him the power to control the budgets of other spy agencies, such as those within the Defense Department and the National Security Agency.

Meanwhile, Bush is to meet with Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., a member of the Senate Intelligence Committee, to discuss the committee's request for the names of journalists and news organizations who have been on the CIA payroll.

A top intelligence official insisted that Bush would not turn over the names to the committee under any circumstance.

In another development, House members will be allowed to read the report of its special Intelligence Committee, but not to copy it or make the information public, House Speaker Carl Albert said Monday. Many sections of the report already have been made public, despite a House ban on publication.

Under the reorganization, Bush will not become an "intelligence czar" but will be in a better position as director of central intelligence, the officials said.

An interagency panel headed by Bush will consist of fewer than five members representing the various intelligence agencies and will report directly to the National Security Council, headed by the president.

The oversight panel would receive direct reports from the inspectors general of the intelligence agencies, except the FBI, and would have the power to recommend to the attorney general that a particular activity merited disciplinary action or prosecution.

Wallace rips tax system

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace claimed on Monday that America's middle class is being taxed out of existence but avoided saying who should bear a greater share of the burden of financing social services.

The 1976 presidential campaign will be fought on economic issues, and unemployment and inflation are the main problems facing the next administration, he said.

Wallace said he would field a slate of at-large delegates to seek seats from Ohio at the Democratic national convention, as at least two other presidential candidates have told Ohio Democratic leaders they plan to do.

Speaking at an airport news conference on the way to Boston, the governor said low and middle income Americans deserved a tax break. But despite pressure from newsmen, he would not provide details on how he would change the nation's tax structure.

"I'm not trying to say corporations are bad..." Wallace said, adding the government should not take any action, such as seeking higher corporate taxes, which could slow capital investment. But he added it was unfair that "the working man making $12,000 to $15,000 or $10,000 pays almost half his income in taxes and Social Security withholding."

Lockheed faces woes

By The Associated Press

The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. is threatened with the loss of a $950-million Canadian order in addition to the $1.3-billion order Japan is reported to have canceled.

Canadian Defense Minister James Richardson said Monday that his government may call off plans to buy Orion patrol planes from the embattled American corporation unless the firm can overcome its financial troubles.

Richardson met with top Lockheed officials and said the company's new board chairman, Robert Haack, assured him a new financing arrangement could be expected later this year. But "the difficulty has not been resolved," Richardson said.

U.S. Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats told Congress last week that Lockheed's estimated profits for the next three years are not sufficient to repay all of the $250 million in loans which the Nixon administration got Congress to guarantee in 1971. The balance of $195 million is due by the end of 1978, and the company has already obtained the only extension allowed it by the 1971 law.

Tot found after slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two-year-old Natasha Moore, taken from her home by a man who later died in a gun battle, has been found.

A Cleveland woman said Monday that Robert Riley turned the child over to her on a bus to babysit and she kept the child over the weekend without knowing that Riley, 25, had been slain.

Natasha's grandmother, Susie Moore, said Riley was a friend of her daughter, Belinda, and lived with the Moore family for several months.

Seek to save elections panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has gotten another urging from President Ford to save the Federal Election Commission from court-ordered extinction, to prevent abuses in the coming campaign.

Meanwhile, Ford, his Republican presidential nomination opponent, Ronald Reagan, and Democratic presidential nomination hopeful George Wallace were criticized by AFL-CIO chief George Meany on Monday as he opened the union's winter meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. Ford personally read his statement to reporters seeking quick congressional action on his proposal which would allow him to appoint all six members of the FEC, subject to Senate approval.

The Supreme Court ruled last month that the commission, as now structured, is unconstitutional because four of its six members are appointed by Congress. The court said appointing commission members is the president's job and it gave Congress until March 1 to act.

Ford urged Congress for quick action on keeping the FEC alive after the recent court ruling.

Meany lumped Ford and Reagan together in criticizing them, saying they are the products of Republican conservatism. He also said Ford has no compassion for the "little people" with his veto of a $6 billion public works bill. The House Thursday will attempt to override the veto.

While Meany would not say who is his favorite for the Democratic presidential nomination, he said Wallace is "a disaster."

In other political developments: —Reagan was characterized as a henchman of right wing circles by a Soviet television commentator in Moscow who said the former California governor is "especially zealous" in attempting to undo detente.

Citizens study committee report

General fund...where does money go

The general fund supports many city services. The citizens study committee has tried to breakdown the general fund in an understandable way. For interested citizens wanting more details, a copy of the full budget is available at the City Office Building. The figures provided by the citizens study committee are those that were in the budget before and cuts were made by Washington C.H. City Council.

Police 31.9 per cent

About one-third of the general fund goes for maintaining the Washington C.H. Police Department. Most of this amount goes for salaries to pay 13 police officers that together work three shifts. One of the articles to come will look in detail at the police department.

Fire 22.9 per cent

About one-fourth of the general fund supports the Washington C.H. Fire Department. Here again, most of the money goes for salaries. The citizens study committee will have an article dealing with the fire department, but it is important to note that the fire department has only $1,500 in its budget for capital outlay. That means no provision is being made to replace old equipment.

Health 1.3 per cent

This item in the budget is completely for the operation of the Washington Cemetery. The city of Washington C.H. shares expenses of the cemetery with Union Township and this amount is the city's share.

Social services 0.8 per cent

This amount is what the city pays the county for the feeding and other care of prisoners in the county jail.

Community environment 1.9 per cent

This item covers many different aspects of city government. Most of it is salaries for the city manager, the city manager's secretary, the city auditor, the city solicitor, city council members, the Municipal Court judge, and other workers in the city offices. It costs the city about $5,000 for each election held and this election expense is in this budget item. The salary of the income tax administrator is almost all paid by CETA funds.

"WHO'S SIDE YOU ON?"

Get on good side by right approach

By DON HYMAN Associated Press Writer. STORRS, Conn. (AP) — "Getting on someone's good side" is more than a figure of speech, says a psychologist who sees clear patterns in the way men and women prefer to be approached. If you want to get on a stranger's "good side," said Dr. Jeffrey D. Fisher, it will mean approaching a woman from the front and a man from the side. Fisher, an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Connecticut, said in studies on nonverbal communication he found a pattern of negative response from people when they are approached from their "bad sides." Where a person likes to have his "personal space invaded" from is rooted in sex-linked attitudes on competition and sociability, says Fisher, an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Connecticut. "This kind of research would indicate that some degree of misinterpretation takes place because of differences in sex," Fisher said. In a recent article in the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, Fisher and Prof. Donn Byrne wrote: "A female who wants to befriend an unknown male may be surprised to find that a nonthreatening (to her) eyeball-to-eyeball approach causes consternation and alarm. "In the same way, a male who at-

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

All of the fun with none of the benefits

DEAR ABBY: Couples living together without marriage is a bummer. In cases where both parties invest in joint properties, if the man dies in an industrial accident, the woman can claim nothing. When the property goes to probate to pay off the bills the woman is out of luck. Former wives, children and family can all claim a bigger share than this kind of "widow" can.

A good case was the woman who not only had one illegitimate child, but was carrying another. He always talked about marrying her, but never did. The husband-to-be was killed in a car wreck, wherein insurance could be claimed, but the woman had no legal standing.

If the man decides to "leave," the rejected woman must find another partner, but by that time, the woman has the reputation of a tramp.

Of course, if she can spawn enough children with matrimony, with Aid to Dependent Children, food stamps, low-cost housing and welfare, she can do pretty well and possibly even find a live-in boyfriend, which we taxpayers have to pay for. But the children from this unhappy mess is another matter, and your whole column could be filled with those problems.

MAGISTRATE IN ALASKA

DEAR MAG: Yours is only one of 50 states that has its own law regarding "common-law marriages." However, your timely warning concerning the new cultural phenomenon known as "shacking up" is appreciated, and I hereby pass it on.

DEAR ABBY: My wife of 14 years has suddenly developed a strong desire for children. Both of us would enjoy having a child; however, at this time in our lives (I am 50 and she is 42), so you think it's practical for us to take on the responsibility of raising a child?

My wife constantly argues that a child would bring needed happiness and a more youthful outlook on life for both of us.

I contend it's too late for us to start out with an infant, but I am willing to adopt a child of elementary school age or even one in his (or her) early teens.

Our clergyman favors adoption. My wife's physician says she is capable of having a child.

I am more inclined to adopt a child who needs a home, but my wife feels strongly about having our own. Please give me your views.

ABLE BUT UNWILLING

DEAR ABLE: Sorry, but this is one problem that you and your wife will have to solve yourselves. Some people are "old" at 30, and others are "young" at 60. It takes love, patience, understanding, determination, energy, fortitude, generosity and time to raise a child of any age. How much have you?

DEAR ABBY: This concerns people who never seem able to accept a compliment graciously. For years I was one of these people, and it took me a long time to understand why. It goes back to my childhood. My family (bless them) never gave me an honest-to-goodness compliment. If I looked especially nice, they would say, "You look nice-but can't you do something else with your hair?" This made it impossible to say, "Thank you." Instead, I was always trying to make apologies and put myself down. Compliments should be given freely and without little digs to spoil them.

"THANK YOU"

DEAR THANK: And thank YOU!

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1976. There are 318 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1801, the U.S. House of Representatives broke an electoral tie between Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr and elected Jefferson President.

On this date: In 1621, Miles Standish was made military captain of the Pilgrim colony at Plymouth, Mass.

In 1813, Prussia declared war against France.

In 1916, The British and French captured Germany's African colony of Cameroon during World War I.

In 1934, King Albert I of Belgium was killed while mountain climbing near Namur, Belgium.

In 1944, in the Pacific War, American forces made an amphibious landing on Japanese-held Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

In 1964, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that congressional districts in each state must be roughly equal in population.

Ten years ago: Vice President Hubert Humphrey said in New Delhi that the U.S. would provide India a $100 million loan to aid that country's faltering economy.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon said he would put no limit on the use of American air power in Indochina except to ban tactical nuclear weapons.

One year ago: Government forces in Cambodia abandoned efforts to reopen the Mekong River. The river was under Communist control, cutting off supplies to the capital of Phnom Penh.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the first American navy of eight vessels left Cape Henlopen, Del. on what was called its first "ocean-going cruise" — a mission to the Bahamas to seek gunpowder.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)
Splendid aspects! If you time your moves judiciously, you could put over a profitable deal now. Gains and prestige enhanced all down the line.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)
Stellar influences now stimulate inspirational ideas, intuition, finesse. Inventors, architects, creative workers in general especially favored.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)
Certain favorable situations in your work area now further your interests. An excellent day for handling matters of a confidential nature.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)
An auspicious day for considering a new business commitment, but keep future objectives in mind. Don't base decisions in the light of immediate gain.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Splendid solar influences stimulate your spirit of enterprise and go-gettiveness. A dandy outlook, but don't take anything for granted.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Iron out kinks in your plans and tactics. You should be able to handle and interpret situations ably now. In aiming for goals, however, don't overreach.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Reach for the unusual, the eye-catcher. Learn new methods, help create understanding among associates. Day has dandy potentials.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Be flexible enough in thought to take in a brand new idea — and make it work! Resist tendencies toward doubting and hypercriticism.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Good offerings indicated. Stress your own competence but do not hesitate to accept others' ideas if practical. Intellectual pursuits favored.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Mixed influences. Certain situations may prove confusing, but remain calm. Anxiety or hasty action could further complicate matters. Use your wits.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day — if you cooperate.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)
When not sure, don't act. Wait until all facts are in, and know what they stand for. Situations could deceive if you are not alert.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly enthusiastic individual and, though swift in action, always use your fine intelligence and work hard at being accurate. In fact, it's a blessing to have you around in emergencies, since you always "come through" — practically as well as imaginatively. You are unusually devoted to family and friends, and are a generous host. Children take to you and you would make an outstanding teacher if you can curb a tendency toward impatience when youthful charges fail to live up to your expectations. Your integrity is unquestionable and your memory remarkable. Fields in which you could make a notable success: journalism, the state, politics, science, literature and art. Find 'pill' dangers

CHICAGO (AP) — A Kentucky medical research group reports that oral contraceptives may cause tumors of the liver.

Doctors from the University of Louisville School of Medicine wrote in the Feb. 16 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association that 13 young women developed liver tumors after taking birth control pills. Nine of the tumors were benign, four malignant.

The patients were young, non-alcoholic, generally healthy and free of liver disease, said surgeon E. Truman Mays, M.D.

The exact role of contraceptive pills in liver tumors is unproved, he said, "but a possible link between these pills and hepatic (liver) tumor seems increasingly likely."

However, a study done by the Population Council released over the weekend found that the mortality risk among women who use the pill and other major birth control measures is generally lower than the risk of death from pregnancy itself.

As an exception, the study noted that the risk of death from oral contraceptives is higher than that from pregnancy for women over 40. It recommended alternative methods of birth control for women in the over-40 age bracket.

Auxiliary makes donations, announces V of D winners

Mrs. Ambers Conley opened the meeting of the Burnett-Ducey VFW Auxiliary, 4964, in ritualistic form, and Mrs. Esther Hyer, chaplain, gave the opening prayer. Mrs. George Hooks, patriotic instructor, led the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Walter Wilson acted as pro-tem in the absence of Mrs. Mabel Whitmer, conductress.

Donations were made to the Leroy Schnell Voice of Democracy contest, both Miami Trace and Washington Senior high schools' American Field Service exchange programs, and at a later date a donation is to be made to the restoration project of the fountain at Washington Cemetery, with Mr. Mac Dews Sr. as chairman.

The Voice of Democracy contest winners were Cheryl Pendleton of Miami Trace High, sponsored by the Auxiliary, and Tim O'Flynn, of Washington Senior High, sponsored by the Post, will be presented a $25 Savings Bond at a later date. Mrs. Wilson will be chairman for the refreshment booth at the Fairgrounds again during the gun show and flea market throughout the summer.

Mrs. Kenneth Harley announced she had received a note from former members, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright of Daytona, Fla., and refreshments were served by Mrs. Hubert Ferneau and Mrs. Hyer.

Mrs. Harley and Mrs. Lela Campbell will be hostesses for the March 1 meeting. Mrs. Cloyce Copley was winner of the door prize and the meeting was closed according to the ritual.

YES, YOU CAN BE A HANDY PERSON

You can learn to diagnose plumbing problems, select tools, and make the necessary repairs. It "makes sense" to "save cents" by doing your own home maintenance.

The opportunity to learn how to do home maintenance right in your own home on TV is yours starting tonight. Our local cable TV will carry this program on Channel 8 (WOSU Channel 34) from 7:00 to 7:30 for the next nine Tuesdays.

Viewers of the first program will learn how to do simple electric repairs. Other programs include how to make and use low-cost cleaners and how to repair leaky faucets. Also, viewers will learn how to make toilet repairs and adjustments, how to caulk and weatherstrip, paint interiors and exteriors, repair walls and make storage space.

Bulletins on any of the projects taught during the series are available at no charge through the Fayette County Extension Office, 319 South Fayette Street, Washington C.H., Ohio, 43160. They may be mailed to you by calling 335-1150.

The series was created and produced by home economics specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System through a special grant from the United States Department of Agriculture. The Ohio Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring the programs in Ohio.

RECYCLING

Give your jewelry box a spring cleaning. You can turn that jewelry collection into a truly useful jewelry wardrobe.

First, sort jewelry into three groups: jewelry you are using now, item, that need repair or adjustment, and items you just never use. Give special attention to this last group—perhaps there's a way to put these unused items to work.

For example, can you update out-of-fashion items? If some jewelry items aren't the right size of proportion for you, can they be reworked into usable pieces?

You might re-string an outdated multiple strand necklace into a long rope or two medium length strands. Try different lengths to find the length that is right for you. Perhaps a single strand worn close to the neck, choker style, is the most flattering. Small chains or a single strand of small beads are fashionable this season.

Sometimes multi-colored necklaces have too many colors which create a spotty effect or compete with the outfit. Re-string the beads into a new color combination, using one or two colors. For a new look or to provide extra length, add new beads or even buttons.

Sometimes a necklace is now worn because some of the beads are just too large. Remove the large beads and use them for a bracelet; re-string the rest of the beads into a new necklace.

MORE RECYCLING IDEAS

The third lesson of the Wardrobe That Works Independent Study includes a booklet showing how to restyle garments for yourself or other members of the family.

Since it was not possible to include all the ideas we found, we are providing an opportunity to show a slide set and sketches from two other states, Thursday, February 26 from 12:30 to 3:00 p.m. at the Extension Office.

Anyone is welcome to attend the session in which participants are asked to bring a garment from their wardrobe that is no longer worn. The group will analyze what possible restyling or refitting is needed to again make the garment wearable. If you would like to attend this session, call us at 335-1150. There is no registration fee.

Mrs. Broberg AAUW hostess

The meeting of the American Association of University Women took place in the home of Mrs. E. F. Broberg. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Willard Rutledge and Mrs. Robert Decker. Members present were Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. John Frederick, Mrs. W. O. Fullerton, Mrs. S. J. Kennedy, Mrs. Donald Ginn, Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. Walter Parsley, Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Stanley Scott, and Mrs. Dewey Sheidler.

Everitt Robbins, of the Ohio Water Company, was guest speaker. Mr. Robbins gave an interesting and informative talk including the history and present operation of the water plant. He showed the new water meter that, when installed in a home, can be read from a small dial placed outside the house. Mr. Robbins answered a number of questions and assured us that the purity of our city water was checked periodically and was safe to drink. He closed by telling that water pollution problems in the United States were improving and that he didn't feel the situation was as bad as seemed to be.

The president, Mrs. Walter Parsley, conducted a brief business meeting. Reports were read and approved. Personalized desks pads were presented to the members. They were made by Mrs. Donald Foster's classes.

The March meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gene Hughes when American Field Service exchange students will present the program.

Liberty Bell replica noted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans bitten by the Bicentennial fever have only to travel as far as the Statehouse to view a replica of the Liberty Bell.

The bell, now on display in the Capitol, was presented to the state in 1950 by the U.S. Treasury Department as part of a promotion of savings bonds, according to a spokeswoman at the Ohio Historical Society.

Each of the then 48 states, as well as Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico received a $3,100 copy of the famous bell, the historian said.

MRS. BILLY B. ROSS JR.

Wedding in Wilmington is announced to friends here

Miss Paula Ann Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ferguson of Wilmington, became the bride of Billy B. Ross Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy B. Ross Sr., also of Wilmington. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Ferguson of 1106 Forest St., Washington C. H., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Trimmer.

The Rev. Raymond L. Umstead Sr., performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 14, in the Assembly of God Church in Wilmington.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white A-line wedding gown of sheer organza which fell to a deeply flounced hem. The bodice and upper part of the sleeves and cuffs were enhanced with lace. The bodice featured an empire waistline, and long full sleeves, with a V-neckline. Daisy lace trimmed the cuffs, hemline and the neckline. Her chapel length veil was caught to a Camelot cap. She carried an arrangement of red roses with white carnations.

Mrs. Raymond Umstead Sr., organist, and Mrs. Edgar Gardner of Carlisle, vocalist, presented the Lord's Prayer, Wedding March, and Midsummer Night's Dream.

Miss Robyn Curtis of Wilmington, maid of honor, wore a light blue dress with A-line styling, with wide empire waistline and high neckline, with royal blue jacket buttoned at the waist, with ruffled cuffs. The other attendants, bridesmaids Miss Sue Lovelace of Martinsville, Miss Debbie Ross and Miss Sandra Ross, sisters of the bridegroom, wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Curtis carried two long-stemmed red roses with white streamers, and each bridesmaid a long stemmed red rose with white streamers.

Little Susan Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Carter of Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, and the flower girl, carried a white wicker basket with red rose petals.

Mrs. Ferguson, the bride's mother, chose for her daughter's wedding a dusty blue long dress (A-line) with long lace sleeves, with teardrop opening at the neckline, and belt in the back at the empire waistline. The groom's mother wore a long gray dress with accordin pleated skirt and knit bodice with silver thread, featuring long sleeves with mock turtle neck. Both mothers had corsages of red sweetheart roses.

Hostesses for the reception held at Kelly Center, Wilmington College, were Mrs. Emerson Carter, Mrs. Samuel Reser of Dayton, both aunts of the bride, Mrs. W. A. Sargent of Xenia, Mrs. Alan Mabry, Mrs. Rick Cox, and Miss Robin Gardner, of Wilmington. The couple will reside at 342 Columbus St., Wilmington, following a wedding trip. The new bride was wearing a blue pantsuit with the red corsage from her bridal bouquet when the couple left for the wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Ross, a 1974 Wilmington High School graduate, attended Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky., and is now employed by the Clinton County Welfare Department, Wilmington. Her husband, a 1973 graduate of Wilmington High School, is employed by Ferno-Washington, Wilmington Air Park.

The bridal party was entertained at Duff's on Friday evening following rehearsal.

Class party held for 'Valentines'

The Loyal Daughters Class members and their (Valentine) husbands of McNair Presbyterian Church held a Valentine party and potluck supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fichthorn with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hays assisting. The tables were beautiful with red hearts, red candles and white tablecloths.

Games and contests were enjoyed following the supper. Mrs. William Brinkles and Richard Case were winners for the Valentine puzzle. Mrs. Russell Miller and the Rev. Wilbur Bullock won for making the most words out of "Valentine Day." The couple married the longest were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller (44 years); the couple married the shortest length of time, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Amsbary (eight years). Valentines were then distributed and each read the one she received.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kelley will be hosts for the March 2 meeting.

Those attending the party were the Rev. and Mrs. Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Amsbary, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keaton, Mr. and Mrs. William Brinkles, Mr. and Mrs. John Warnecke, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Case, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Leasure, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Waddle and the hosts and hostesses.

Grades to Grads CCL members make terrariums

Members of Grades to Grads Child Conservation League made terrariums preceding the meeting recently. Terrariums were made under the guidance of Mrs. Carl Anders, in the home of Mrs. W. R. Brittingham Jr.

Mrs. Claud Keim conducted the business meeting, when it was announced that the philanthropic project of the group will be to make cancer pads. The Spring OCCL banquet was announced for May 5, to be held at the Washington Country Club.

Ross Brown and Dominique Blanke, American Field Service exchange students, will be guest speakers at the March meeting, to be held in the home of Mrs. Dale Ritenour.

Those present were Mrs. Johnny Bobbitt, Mrs. Brittingham, Mrs. Earl Eltzroth, Mrs. John Frazier, Mrs. Ralph Hanes, Mrs. Keim, Mrs. Delbert Marshall, Mrs. Ritenour, Mrs. Charles Roush, Mrs. George Smith, and Mrs. Robert Warnock.

MARRIAGE APPLICATION

Kenneth E. Debold, 27, Sabina, bookkeeper, and Bonnie J. Michell, 26, Bloomingburg, credit manager.

JUVENILE COURT

Charlene Corey, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corey, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., was found delinquent for shoplifting. She had spent three days in the Fayette County juvenile detention center prior to the hearing, and Judge Rollo M. Marchant imposed no additional penalty.

JUVENILE TRAFFIC

William J. Fannin Jr., 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fannin, 5284 Ohio 41-S, lost his license for 30 days for failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Brent R. Moore, 17, son of Herbert Moore, Sabina, was released to the discipline of his father after he was cited for a stop sign violation.

Daniel M. Rodgers, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, 1120 N. North St., was found to be a juvenile traffic offender for failing to maintain assured clear distance ahead. The judge approved the discipline imposed by the parents.

Christopher J. Allen, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Allen, 1002 E. Market St., was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course after he was cited for failure to yield.

Gregory Scott, 16, son of Mrs. Patricia Scott, 344 Ely St., was found to have been speeding. He was released to the discipline of his mother.

DIVORCE ACTIONS FILED

Emma L. Rowland, 4329 Ohio 41-N, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court for divorce from Lee H. Rowland, Sabina, on grounds of neglect and cruelty. The parties were married in Hamilton Dec. 18, 1967 and have one child the issue of their union. The plaintiff is seeking alimony, custody and support.

Roni K. Gordon, 531 Lewis St., has filed suit for divorce from Robert P. Gordon, 1117 Gregg St., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties were married here June 4, 1972 and have two children the issue of their union. The plaintiff is seeking alimony, custody and support.

Mary K. Hanawalt, Rt. 1, Mount Sterling, has filed suit for divorce from Donald J. Hanawalt on grounds of neglect and cruelty. The parties were married in Madison Mills Jan. 21, 1962 and have two children the issue of their union. The plaintiff is seeking alimony, custody and support.

DISSOLUTION GRANTED

Aaron E. Dailey of New Holland and Sheryl L. Dailey, 427 Jupiter St., have been granted a dissolution of their marriage in Common Pleas Court. Their interests were divided in accordance with their separation agreement.

DIVORCE ACTION DISMISSED

The divorce action filed in Common Pleas Court by Fern Coy of Jeffersonville against Robert Coy has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff.

FORECLOSURE ACTION DISMISSED

The foreclosure action filed in Common Pleas Court by Citizens Mortgage Corp., Columbus, against Fred and Patricia Osborne, 1131 Campbell St., has been dismissed at the request of the plaintiff. The suit was dismissed with prejudice to future action.

CORRECTION

The suit against Maynard Hoppes, 7567 Miami Trace Road, reported last week was filed by Flo-Lizer, Inc., Ohio 753-S, not "Carter Flo-Lizer" as appeared in print.

In EPA report on Culpepper Subdivision

Need for minor improvements noted

By GEORGE MALEK

Difficulties which have arisen concerning the Fayette County Board of Commissioners acceptance of the Culpepper Subdivision No. 3 water and sewage treatment facilities have temporarily saved subdivision residents some money, but it appears that they will more than pay for it in the long run.

The commissioners were scheduled to assume the operation of the utilities in December, and subdivision residents were to be billed $12.50 per month for these services. However, objections by residents over the quality of the water and the "high" utility bills prompted the commissioners to have the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) inspect the facilities. In the interim, subdivision residents have not been billed.

According to the EPA report, some improvements are needed in the sewage system, most of which appear to be relatively minor. They approved the water system as it now functions, but noted that it does not earn a first-quality rating. The shortcomings in the water treatment facility are likely to cause subdivision residents repeated headaches or expense in the future — perhaps both.

While the EPA reported that water in the subdivision was "safe," it did not give the water a high-quality rating. Although no "hazardous" chemicals were found, the EPA noted that the water is high in suspended solids of iron and manganese. These deficiencies in treatment detract only from the "aesthetic" quality of the water, an EPA official said, but he added that they mean additional cost to the homeowner.

The suspended solids cause little problem other than discoloration and perhaps poor taste. Manganese may create green deposits on brass household fixtures, and is not a major concern. Iron, however, can discolor clothing, collect inside pipes, add to the cost of softening water and leave rust stains on porcelain.

Although an interpretation by attorneys may be necessary to determine when and how the commissioners are bound to accept the system, it appears that the high iron content will remain in the water after acceptance of the system. The iron level is more than four times the maximum amount recommended by the EPA.

In order to qualify for Farmers Home Administration funding, the houses in the Culpepper subdivision must have central water and sewer facilities operated by a municipal authority. Therefore, an agreement was reached between developer Jess Gilmore and the county commissioners by which the operation would be handled by the county after development reached a certain stage. Until that time, the developer would bear the entire cost of the utility operation.

Gilmore feels that the required stage of development has been reached, and the commissioners are obligated to assume responsibility. The commissioners, on the other hand, feel that improvements should be made before the county accepts the facilities. It seems that Gilmore will have to make the repairs on the sewage treatment facility, but since the EPA approves the water system from a health standpoint, no improvement is required, there.

If the iron content has not been reduced, and it appears that it will not, water problems will persist. The iron in the water will continue to yield poor taste and discolor household items. Those who have water softeners will be paying a premium price to remove iron through the purchase of chemicals for the softening units.

Officials of the EPA and local engineer Donald L. Conley agreed that iron removal at the central treatment facility would be by far the least expensive method of dealing with the problem. If Gilmore is not willing to add iron treatment to the facility itself. Homeowners in the area would have to petition the county commissioners if they wanted improvement. The cost is estimated at $15,000 to $20,000 initially, and another $2 per month for each home to operate the facility and purchase chemicals.

Although this operating cost is much lower than the chemicals required by individual water softening unit, it would mean additional expense to homeowners who are already complaining of the high rates proposed.

It was reported that one of the reasons Gilmore was reluctant to construct an iron removal unit in the water treatment facility originally was the need to keep prices in the subdivision within FHA mandates. The entire cost of the homes, lots and construction of utility facilities had to be held down in order to comply with FHA restrictions, and the additional cost of an iron removal unit could have affected the eligibility of purchasers seeking FHA assistance.

Regardless of the outcome of future negotiations between Gilmore and the commissioners, residents of Culpepper Subdivision are likely to bear expenses, direct or indirect, which they may not have foreseen.

Probe leakage of secret report

CLEVELAND (AP) — A full scale investigation of the sale of a secret House intelligence committee report to a New York City newspaper was called for Monday by U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

"There is ample evidence that there have been abuses within our nation's intelligence community," Taft said. "But to cripple our vital intelligence arm in the course of guarding against further abuses merely feeds our foreign adversaries the ammunition they so desperately need to wage their war on America."

CBS correspondent Daniel Schorr has said he provided the report, which the House voted to keep secret, in exchange for a payment to be channeled to the Reporters' Committee for Freedom of the Press.

Brown backs Rep. Stanton

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Atty. Gen. William J. Brown has endorsed the candidacy of Rep. James Stanton, D-Ohio, in the Cleveland's bid for the U.S. Senate seat held by Republican Sen. Robert Taft Jr.

Brown told a news conference on Monday that Stanton was the best candidate and the most likely to win in the primary battle. But the attorney general added that he would support whomever wins the Democratic nomination.

To meet customer requirements

DP&L plans record construction

DAYTON — In order to meet the growing consumer requirements for more electricity and conform to environmental regulations, the Dayton Power and Light Co. will have to spend approximately $116 million in 1976 for construction of new facilities, company officials have announced.

The construction budget is the largest in the company's history. About 98 per cent of the money will be spent for electric facilities, and about $16.3 million will have to be spent for environmental protection equipment.

In 1976, the Dayton Power and Light Co. will spend $85.5 million as its share for generation and transmission projects being built in common ownership with The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. (CG&E) and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. (C&SOE).

— A 500,000 kilowatt electric generating unit, scheduled for operation in 1978 at CG&E's Miami Fort Station near Cleaves, Ohio is now under construction. The Dayton Power and Light Co. will own 36 per cent of this unit with DP&L's share of the construction for 1976 totaling $21.9 million.

— Construction is about 40 per cent completed on an 840,000 kilowatt generating unit at the William H. Zimmer Nuclear Power Station near Moscow, Ohio. It is scheduled for commercial operation in 1979. DP&L will own 31.5 per cent of the unit with CG&E and C&SOE also participating in ownership. DP&L's share of construction costs for the Zimmer plant in 1976 will be $34.1 million.

— Two 600,000 kilowatt generating units are planned for each of two sites; one in Adams County, Ohio, and another at East Bend, Kentucky. One unit is scheduled for completion in each of the four years 1980 through 1983. DP&L will own 49 per cent of each of these units which will be built in cooperation with the Cincinnati company. DP&L's construction costs for these units will be $19.3 million in 1976; and — Construction is continuing on the commonly-owned 345,000 volt transmission network which connects the commonly-owned generating stations to the service areas of the three companies. This will require $6.5 million from DP&L this year.

Expansion of electric transmission and distribution facilities in the DP&L service area will cost $21.7 million in 1976. A major project will be the construction of a new substation in Shelby County. The new facility, Shelby substation, will be located one mile east of Pasco on the Feree Road and will receive electricity at 345,000 volts and reduce it to 138,000 volts for transmission to other area DP&L substations. This project will require an outlay of $1.9 million in 1976 and is necessary to provide for future load growth and improve reliability and quality of service to this region.

A number of other important electric transmission and distribution projects are scheduled to be started this year.

— In Shelby county the company will complete a 138,000-volt electric line from the new Shelby substation located one mile east of Pasco on the Feree Road to the Quincy substation located on the east side of the Logan County Road north of the Champaign-Logan County Road. The line construction and associated work at the Quincy substation will require an expenditure of $247,000 in 1976;

— An outlay of $554,000 is budgeted in 1976 for the construction of 20.3 miles of 138,000-volt electric line from the company's West Milton substation, located on Garland Road at Moore Road, to the Greenville substation which is located at the Sebring-Warner Road near Greenville;

— Construction costs at the company's Airway substation will total $149,000 in 1976. This is for the installation of a second transformer;

— At the Kingscreek substation at Urbana, Ohio a second transformer will be installed. This will cost $80,000;

— A second transformer and associated switchgear will be added to DP&L's Needmore substation on Webster Street in Dayton. This project will cost $285,000;

— The 1976 construction budget also includes plans for building a new electric substation one-half mile west of Bellbrook on Ohio 725. Cost of this project is estimated at $602,000;

— A new electric substation will be constructed on the Lower Bellbrook Road south of the Ohio 42 bypass near Xenia at a cost of $665,000;

— A second transformer is scheduled to be installed at the Stillwater substation located at 3702 Kathleen Avenue. $312,000 is being budgeted for this project; and — At the company's West Side substation, an AC to DC converter for the trolley system will be replaced at a cost of $407,000.

Approximately $1.6 million will be spent by DP&L this year for gas main replacements and protection to serve existing gas customers. Because of the natural gas shortage, DP&L is no longer accepting new gas customers.

Approximately $363,000 is budgeted for the company's steam heating division.

ABA fight slated over advertising

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A limited proposal to let lawyers advertise faces strong opposition today as the American Bar Association winds up its midwinter meeting here.

"Some say it is going to get clobbered," said former ABA President Chesterfield Smith of Lakeland, Fla.

But Smith predicted a close vote, probably to approve. Few if any delegates expected the proposal to carry by a substantial margin.

In action on Monday, the association's policy-making House of Delegates:

— Postponed action on a proposal calling for guidelines for judicial "gag orders" governing publicity about

Sabina solons approve holidays for employes

SABINA — Sabina village council met Monday night and gave final approval to an ordinance establishing holidays for village employes.

The named six holidays for which employes will be paid. They are Christmas, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The ordinance establishing the holidays was placed on its third and final reading and then approved by council.

Council members also approved the leasing of a new copying machine at a cost of $54.46 per month. This cost is $3 per month higher than the rate for the older machine, but council expects to receive better copying capabilities.

No action was taken concerning fire protection contracts with surrounding areas. Contracts have been sent by the village, but one of the four has yet been returned. The contracts call for the cost as last year.

After routine bills, mostly payroll, in the amount of $4,000 were paid, the meeting was recessed until Friday. In the interim, council members will review the village's real property to determine whether or not it is adequately insured. They will meet with insurance representatives Friday.

criminal cases. It was postponed at the request of news media organizations because the Supreme Court is expected to rule on the issue this spring or summer.

— Rejected by a two-vote margin a proposal to repeal criminal penalties for prostitution.

— Overrode Justice Department objections and recommended creation of a three-judge court with power to appoint a special prosecutor.

— Recommended that unanimous jury verdicts be required for criminal convictions, even though the Supreme Court has said this is not constitutionally necessary.

— Approved by voice vote a proposal to create a National Court of Appeals as a buffer between federal circuit courts of appeals and the Supreme Court.

— Recommended that state courts, which say they are being short-changed in distribution of Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funds, be guaranteed a voice in how the money is divided.

The proposal on advertising would allow lawyers to include in directory listings some information about their fees and the areas of law on which they concentrate.

There is strong pressure for its approval because of lawsuits attacking the ABA ban on lawyer advertising in the wake of a Supreme Court ruling that the legal profession does not enjoy a blanket exemption from antitrust laws.

A suit by Consumers Union challenging the ABA restriction on publication of lawyers' fees and specialties is set for trial before a three-judge federal court in Richmond, Va., March 25.

Wendy's reports earnings rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Record 1975 operating results were reported Monday by Wendy's International Inc.

Net income reached $2.7 million, up 143 per cent from $1.1 million a year earlier, chairman R. David Thomas said.

That represented 84 cents a share on revenue of $29.6 million.

Sectional tournament pairings set

Blue Lions choose McClain, Trace draws Portsmouth

By PHIL LEWIS

Record-Herald Sports Editor

Next week, the Washington C. H. Blue Lions and the Miami Trace Panthers will begin play in the new basketball season — sectional tournaments.

Both Fayette County squads, having failed to secure any regular season honors with the exception of finishing close behind once-beaten Circleville in the SCOL, will have a chance to turn this season into a memorable one.

Coach Gary Shaffer's Blue Lions will play in the class AA sectional at Unioto again this year. Washington C. H. made it to the tournament finals last season before losing to Greenfield McClain.

The similarities between last year's remarkable McClain team and this year's Blue Lion squad is worth noting.

Last year, McClain finished second in the league behind Circleville with a record that Washington C. H. could duplicate before the season is out. The Tigers went on to win the district title and to challenge for the regional title.

McClain beat Washington C. H. three times last year including the sectional finals win over the Blue Lions. Shaffer's team has beaten McClain twice this season and the Blue Lions would like to make it three out of three.

However, that is not one of the reasons Shaffer chose to play Greenfield instead of Hillsboro in the first round of the sectional.

Washington C. H. received the top seed in this year's sectional — through the strength of an 11-5 record — giving Shaffer the choice of which bracket, the upper or lower, he wanted.

The Blue Lion coach chose the upper bracket pitting Washington C. H. against McClain instead of the lower bracket which would have meant playing Hillsboro.

Shaffer said he selected the upper bracket position because the opening round game would be played on a Friday night.

The Blue Lions will open the sectional on a Friday, and providing they win, they will play again on a Wednesday before the following championship match slated on a Saturday. This schedule will place the Blue Lions' games on days more to Shaffer's liking than the lower bracket schedule.

As far as choosing between Greenfield and Hillsboro, Shaffer said he was not too concerned about which team he played.

"We'd rather play Hillsboro, because of the fact, that it would have been easier to get the team up since we lost one game to them this season," Shaffer said. "But, we would like to play Greenfield again too, because they beat us three times last year and now we have a chance to do the same."

When Washington C. H. chose the upper bracket, second seeded Waverly was dropped to the lower bracket to face Hillsboro. Federal Hocking drew the upper bracket bye while Vinton County received the lower bracket bye.

The Miami Trace Panthers will play their sectional games in Athens this year. The tournament was moved from Rio Grande College to the Ohio University Convocation Center in hopes of attracting more paying fans.

Another ploy to pack the fans into this year's class AAA sectional is the scheduling of all three first-round games on the same night.

The night is Saturday, Feb. 28, and Miami Trace will play in the second game against Portsmouth.

Top-seeded Lancaster takes on Athens in the evening's first game while Chillicothe and second-seeded Marietta meet after the Panthers' contest. Logan received the upper bracket bye.

If Miami Trace beats Portsmouth, the Panthers would play either Chillicothe or Marietta the following Thursday for the lower bracket championship.

The winners of the two brackets will then move to Marietta College for the sectional finals on March 12.

Erving, Nets edge Colonels, 100-99

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Kevin Loughery sees him every day and says he still gets surprised. Hubie Brown sees him once a week or so and just sits back to watch in admiration.

Both coaches were talking of Julius Erving, a sinewy forward whose legendary play has earned him the nickname "Dr. J." Several other players, professional and collegiate, have been called Dr. Something-or-other, but there's only one Doctor. Just ask the coaches.

"What you saw tonight was a super star performance," said Brown, whose Kentucky Colonels dropped a 100-99 American Basketball Association decision Monday night to Erving's New York Nets. The game was the only pro basketball action Monday night.

The winning time was 1:15.1-5 for the six furlongs and the payoff was $3.20, $2.20 and $2.20. Magic Print placed, $2.60 and $2.60 and Jumping Around finished third, $2.60.

McKinley finishes season atop poll

By GEORGE STRODE

AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Canton McKinley, its regular season finished with 18 straight victories, apparently has wrapped up The Associated Press' Class AAA state high school basketball poll championship.

The Bulldogs polled 302 points, 35 ahead of second-place Barberton, which has a game at Massillon Friday.

The Class AA poll leader, Delphos St. John, still has two games to play before it can claim an AP regular season championship. The Blue Jays (16-0) play St. Marys Friday and Lima Catholic Sunday.

Gnadenhutzen Indian Valley South, a 55-53 upset victim of rival Midvale Indian Valley North last week, still finished its season in the No. 1 spot in Class A. The Rebels will carry a 17-1 record into tournament play.

St. John piled up 249 points to 207 for No. 2 Warsaw River View in the Class AA voting by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Indian Valley South collected 244 points and runnerup Arcanum, a former state tournament champion.

Rutgers moves up in cage standings

By JOHN NELSON

AP Sports Writer

The undefeated Scarlet Knights of Rutgers continued their assault on No. 1, and Indiana held onto its top ranking in The Associated Press major college basketball poll released today.

Rutgers — with a pair of victories last week, one a 92-81 overtime decision over Manhattan — picked up one first-place vote and moved up from fifth to fourth.

Rutgers, 21-0 through Sunday, picked up 815 points in balloting by a country-wide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Indiana, also 21-0 after victories over Michigan State and Illinois last week, received first-place votes on 60 of 63 ballots cast for 1,254 points.

Marquette and North Carolina continued to hold down the No. 2 and 3 spots. The Terrapins, 19-1, received 1,064 points after downing Virginia Tech 68-61, and the Tar Heels, 20-2, picked up 996 points after beating Maryland and Tulane.

The loss dropped Maryland from fourth to seventh.

UCLA, 19-3, also continued to move up in the poll after beating Washington State and Washington for a second time. The Bruins were fifth with one first-place vote and 758 points.

Nevada-Las Vegas, 24-1 and recipient of the other top vote not going to Indiana, climbed from seventh to sixth with 613 points after clubbing Centenary 122-92. Maryland, now 18-4, received 601 points from ballots for seventh.

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame moved from 10th to eighth after a trio of victories last week. The Irish, with a 17-4 record, received 403 points.

Tennessee and Alabama held down the last two spots in the Top Ten. Tennessee, 19-3, had been eighth last week but, after losing to Florida, dropped to ninth with 403 points. Alabama beat Florida last week and moved from 11th to 10th with 333 pints.

Baseball training camps await talks

By HAL BOCK

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's very much like any other baseball road trip ... two weeks and six cities long. But Marvin Miller's current nationwide journey is considerably more vital than a ball club's ordinary mid-season swing.

The results of Miller's meetings with the players and continuing negotiations with the owners will determine whether spring training will start on time or, in fact, whether it will start at all.

Baseball's rites of spring usually begin in the last week of February with pitchers and catchers reporting first, followed by other players, who are usually due in camp by March 1.

But no dates have been set for spring training, 1976, and the time is growing short if camps are to open on time. That is why the owners' negotiators have decided to follow Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, on his trip. Negotiations will continue while Miller briefs the players on the status of the talks.

The two sides met Monday in Los Angeles, with Miller set to talk to the players there today. On Wednesday, National League owners meet in Chicago and it's no coincidence that the site is the same hotel where Miller will be talking to players Thursday.

Miller moves on to Cincinnati Friday, returning to New York for a Saturday negotiating session before moving on to Houston and Philadelphia next week and concluding his swing in Miami March 2.

Publicly, the owners have maintained that they want to start spring training on time. Miller would be agreeable to that, but the owners insist that before they open camps they will have an agreement with the players. That simply may be impossible to accomplish in the two short weeks before the traditional March 1 start, especially with the two sides far apart on most issues.

Indiana pulls out Purdue win

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
Indiana, the college basketball team with 51 varieties of successful recipes, found a 32nd against Purdue.
—Start with a red-hot Boilermaker, add an 11-point first-half deficit for flavor, then throw in your surprise ingredient: a bench with very little seasoning.

—Place ingredients in a pressure cooker.
—At halftime, put the Boilermaker in a dressing room and let it cool for 15 minutes. Serve with some hot shooting of your own in the second half.
Hoosiers' Coach Bobby Knight, master chef of a 32-game Big Ten winning string, used the concoction to advantage Monday night when Scott May and Quinn Buckner got into early foul trouble and top-ranked Indiana was looking up from a 27-16 score. Knight called on four reserves, who brought the Hoosiers within two points late in the opening period.

"At halftime, the coach just told us to play our game and stay hot," observed May, who scored just six points in the first half but finished with 26.
When the second half began, the Hoosiers took off on a 10-2 surge that gave them the lead for good in what finished as a 74-71 triumph over Purdue. Indiana led 58-48 with 11 minutes remaining before the Boilermakers came within one on a jump shot in the closing seconds.

"But I felt really confident in the last minute that we would win," added May. And win they did — two free throws by May with two seconds remaining insuring Coach Knight's reputation as the top cook in college basketball these days.

The victory was the 52nd straight in regular season play for the Hoosiers, 22-0 this season and 13-0 in the conference. Purdue dropped to 8-5 in Big Ten play, 13-9 over-all.

Seven other Top Twenty teams played Monday night. No. 2 Marquette clubbed Tulane 75-63; eighth-ranked Notre Dame bopped Butler 92-79; Auburn upset ninth-rated Tennessee 73-72 in overtime; No. 10 Alabama topped Mississippi 78-70; Michigan, ranked 15th, blasted Eastern Michigan 94-76; No. 16 St. John's, N.Y., trimmed Seton Hall 68-63; and DePaul surprised No. 18 Virginia Tech 73-65.

Marquette, 20-1, ran its winning streak to 10 games behind 23 points by Earl Tatum. The Warriors have won at least 20 games in each of their last 10 seasons.

Notre Dame was paced by Adrian Dantley's 27 points, although Butler's Wayne Burris led all scorers with 30. Eddie Johnson scored with six seconds left to tie the game, then hit three free throws in the last 10 seconds of overtime to lift Auburn past Tennessee.

Leon Douglas scored 35 points to help Alabama take the Southeastern Conference lead — thanks to Auburn's victory. Rickey Green scored 25 points and Phil Hubbard 24 as Michigan pounded Eastern Michigan for the 10th time in a row.

George Johnson scored 20 points to lead St. John's, and Joe Ponsetto scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half to lead DePaul from behind to its seesaw victory over Virginia Tech. —

Big 10 cage action heavy

By The Associated Press
"I felt really confident in the last minute that we would win," All-American Scott May said after top-ranked Indiana pulled a squeaker out of the fire.

May drilled in 26 points to lead the Hoosiers back from an 11-point first-half deficit Monday night to a 74-71 victory over Purdue in Big Ten Basketball action.

In other games, Illinois whipped Ohio State 91-73, Iowa beat Northwestern 81-68, Minnesota dumped Wisconsin 98-74 and Michigan topped nonconference Eastern Michigan 94-76.

Purdue confined the 6-foot-7 May to just six points in the first period as Hoosier starters got into early foul trouble against a fired up attack.

But Indiana, now 13-0 in the Big Ten and 22-0 over all, battled back from a 27-16 deficit with four reserves in the lineup and pulled within two points late in the first half.

In the second half, the Hoosiers, led by May and Tom Abernethy, outscored the Boilermakers 10-2 to take the lead for good. Two free throws by May with two seconds to go gave Indiana the victory.

Purdue, topped by Parker's 23 points and Jordan's 14, fell to 8-5 in the league and 13-9 over all. At Minneapolis, sophomore center Mike Thompson scored 33 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to lead Minnesota past Wisconsin.

Thompson, who hit 21 points in the first half, scored the first three points of the game as the Gophers raced to an 11-0 lead in the first four minutes.

Minnesota had a 26-point lead, 43-17, with 5½

minutes left in the first half and held a 51-32 lead at halftime.

With five minutes left in the game, the Gophers led by 36, 95-59, and Coach Jim Dutcher emptied his bench. At Champaign, Rich Adams scored 29 points as the Illini raced out to an early lead and easily outpaced the Buckeyes.

The score was tied at 16-all early in the first half when Illinois spurred to a 28-18 edge. They stayed in control the rest of the way, piling up a 48-37 advantage at the half.

Ohio State's Judd Wood dropped in 19 points, 15 of them in the first half, to tie Terry Burris for Buckeye scoring honors.

The match left Illinois 7-7 in conference play and 14-9 over all. Ohio State fell to 2-11 in the Big Ten and 6-15 on the year.

At Iowa City, Dan Frost, with 25 points and 12 rebounds, paced Iowa over Northwestern despite a late Wildcat rally.

The Hawkeyes led 38-30 at halftime and built their lead to 60-47, but Northwestern, behind the shooting of guard Billy McKinney, cut the lead to 68-64 with three minutes left in the game.

Iowa held on and outscored the Wildcats 13-4 in the remaining minutes.

Iowa is now 7-5 in the Big Ten and 17-6 over all, while Northwestern fell to 5-9 and 10-13.

Michigan easily rolled over rival Eastern Michigan as Rickey Green scored 25 points and Phil Hubbard had 24 to help raise 16th-ranked Wolverines to an overall record to 17-and-5. Eastern fell to 7-and-15 for the season.

Set Olympics facilities

MONTREAL (AP) — Construction workers appear headed towards an Olympic record in the "speed building" event, according to the latest tour of facilities to be used in the next Summer Games.

When the International Olympic Committee gave its last tour of the site of next July's competition, observers were presented with a stadium frame that seemingly never would be ready in time — not to mention swimming and diving pools in similar situation.

But during a new inspection Monday, a different picture had developed. The main swimming pool had taken form, the diving tower had sprouted and Victor Goldbloom — the Quebec minister responsible for the Olympics installations board — said that work on the stadium had progressed to such a degree that catastrophe plans, formulated on the possibility that the stadium would not be ready, had been scrapped.

"The stadium is taking shape," said Goldbloom. "The seating is beginning to be in place — that is to say, the concrete slabs on which the seating will be placed — in about one-quarter of the stadium ring at the upper two levels.

Refurbished Yankee Stadium in New York reopens April 15 with the home club facing the Minnesota Twins.

Ohio University
profs eye quakes

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The relation of earthquakes to the structure of the earth's surface is being studied by two Ohio University professors under grants totaling over $41,000.

Dr. Robert S. Yeats, professor of geology, was awarded a $20,480 grant to study geological faults related to the magnitude of a 6.6 earthquake that struck Los Angeles in 1971.

Dr. Tomoyasu Tanaka, professor of physics, will study the properties, structure and dynamics of earth materials with a $20,631 grant.

Opening lead - jack of hearts.

Let's assume you're in seven spades and West leads the jack of hearts. Offhand it seems you need a successful club finesse, but further study reveals that you have much more than just a straight 50 per cent chance for the contract.

You win the heart lead with the king and draw three rounds of trumps, finding them divided 3-2. You then cash the A-K of diamonds, both opponents following suit, at which point your chances of making the grand slam suddenly rise to 100 per cent.

You play the A-Q of hearts, discarding the 10-9 of diamonds, and ruff a diamond, thus establishing dummy's eight as a trick. It is then a simple matter to lead a low club to the king, discard your eight of clubs on the eight of diamonds, and so make the grand slam without risking a club finesse.

Note that in pursuing this method of play you do not at any point relinquish your chance of making the contract with a successful club finesse. If the diamonds prove to be divided 4-1 when you lead the A-K, you would still discard the 10-9 of diamonds on the A-Q of hearts, and only then would you fall back on the club finesse.

The principle that applies here is a fairly common one. Whenever the outcome appears to depend on the favorable location of a particular card — in the present case, the queen of clubs — declarer must look beyond that for an alternative line of play that either reduces or eliminates the luck factor associated with a finesse.

A different way of stating the same principle is to say that declarer always tries to find an alternative method of play that gives him two chances to make the contract instead of one.

Fructose Speeds Sobering-Up

I have heard that it is now possible to use some chemical to sober up after a bout of drinking. Do you know anything about this?

Mr. S.L., Minn.

Dear Mr. L.:

A series of experiments have been going on in an effort to find a way of removing alcohol from the blood, as a sobering-up process.

Fructose is a specialized type of sugar which apparently accomplishes this purpose, with a fair degree of speed.

This particular type of sugar is very expensive. For this reason sucrose, another sugar derivative, is being used for the same purpose.

A group of alcoholic volunteers was studied. It was found that both fructose and sucrose were "found to be more effective in hastening the removal of alcohol from the blood than ordinary glucose (the most common sugar)."

Those who have been studying this advise that patients with liver disease should not by themselves embark on a program of self-treatment with these sugars. Complications have been reported, despite its value as a reducing agent of alcohol in the blood.

Has anybody ever verified the longest pregnancy?

Mrs. B.F., Wisc.

Dear Mrs. F.:

In a recent edition of the Guinness Book of World Records, there is documented evidence of a pregnancy that lasted 398 days. The child, a girl, was born healthy. She weighed 7 pounds.

Now it comes to light that an 8 lb. son was born after a 13½ month pregnancy.

A great deal of skepticism still exists in some quarters about both of these long pregnancies.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... Many young children are labeled "slow learners," "slow readers" and "poor students" because of undetected visual and hearing defects. When these are corrected, many of these children return to full peer activity and normal educational levels.

You wouldn't believe the number of interesting historical pictures and photographs of Fayette County scenes that are coming to light this year of the bicentennial. Lots of folks have these old pix in their albums and scrapbooks. If someone could get his hands on all of them and make slides of them to make a master historical slide show it would be really something fantastic. We know several lensmen who are making slides of all the old pix they can get their hands on, but there are so many interesting scenes missing from each of the shows. It's unfortunate there isn't a historical group in the county to coordinate this effort.

The county should be photographically recorded for this bicentennial year. There are many fine amateurs in the area capable of doing an excellent job on such an assignment. The first guy I think of is Stu Gossard. Stu's uncanny sense of compositional quality together with his many years of technical mastery of the photographic process gives him the edge on nearly any photo assignment. Then there's Ed Summers. Ed sees the picture that lesser lensmen stumble over and pass on. Ed's stuff has the quality we call "impact." And there are some new people I'd like to see tackle some of this documentation, like Don Turner, and Bill Metais, and then there's Susan Rockhold (there's a gal with a great sense of composition), Howard Miller (always the perfectionist), and Dr. John Jordan who has the fresh picture approach of a youngster and the technique of an old experienced pro.

You know, Susan Rockhold's eye for composition reminds me of Martha Bireley's natural sense of pictorial quality. Some people have this sense as a natural thing, while others develop this photographic eye from experience.

Once again let me remind you that Alan Stang (yep, he's the guy on THE ALAN STANG REPORT) will speak at the Eastside Gymnasium, Tuesday, March 2, at 8 p.m. You can get tickets now at the camera shop, $1.50. And listen to the ALAN STANG REPORT every weekday morning at 8 a.m. on WCHO radio.

Officers investigate five traffic mishaps

A Washington C.H. man was charged after striking a car in the rear and leaving the scene of the accident. Washington C.H. police officers also reported three other accidents two involving parking lot mishaps. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a one-car accident on the Greenfield-Sabina Road in which a car was demolished.

POLICE
TUESDAY, 7:30 a.m. - A car driven by Steven Smalley, 25, of 730 Clinton Ave., struck in the rear a westbound car driven by Horace Wilson, 64, of 530 Mayfair Drive, when the Wilson auto was attempting to turn off of W. Court Street. According to police, Smalley then drove off, running a red light in the process and was apprehended on Draper Street. He was cited for reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident. Damage was minor.

MONDAY, 4:50 p.m. - A car driven by Roberta J. Smith, 18, of 217 East St., was pulling from a parking space on East Street when she struck a car driven by Michael J. Lander, 30, of 321 Grove Ave., which was backing on East Street, 200 feet east of the S. Fayette Street intersection. Damage was moderate.

4:15 p.m. - A car parked in Clark's Cardinal parking lot belonging to David F. Blamer, 427 Third St., was struck by a car driven by Faye S. McIntosh, 30, Rt. 4, which was in the process of backing from a parking space. Damage was slight.

11:51 a.m. - As he was driving in the K-Mart store parking lot, Robert E. Case, 40, Austin-Good Hope Road, stated that he saw a car driven by Terry A. Duffy, 16, of 217 Ohio Ave., approaching, but was unable to stop. Duffy said that he swerved but was unable to avoid the collision. Damage was slight.

SHERIFF

MONDAY, 6:05 p.m. - A car driven by William J. Fannin, 17, 5284 Ohio 41-S, swerved off of a curve on the Greenfield-Sabina Road near the Barrett Road intersection traveled through a ditch and turned over twice in the adjacent field. The car was demolished and Fannin was charged with driving while intoxicated, and driving while license was under suspension.

Consumer bread prices rise despite drop in wheat cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary government figures show that consumers paid 1.5 cents more per loaf of bread last year than in 1974, despite a drop in the value of wheat and other farm-produced ingredients in it.

The figures, an average for the entire 12 months, showed that a one-pound loaf of white bread cost an average retail price of 36 cents in 1975, compared with 34.5 cents in 1974.

According to the Agriculture

Department's Economic Research Service, the farm value of wheat in a single loaf was 4.5 cents last year, compared with 5.5 in 1974.

Including other ingredients such as non-fat dry milk, shortening and sugar, the total farm value of ingredients in a 1975 loaf was 6.8 cents, down from 8 cents in 1974, the report said.

According to the figures, the retail price increase resulted from higher middleman charges between the time wheat and other ingredients left the farm and when bread was put on retail shelves.

The wholesale price was 31.4 cents per loaf last year, up from 28.6 in 1974. The spread between wholesaler and retailer dropped to 4.6 cents last year from 5.8 in 1974.

According to the report, the price of wheat used to make flour averaged $3.60 per bushel over the entire 1975 calendar year in major wheat states. That compared with $4.04 per bushel in 1974.

On a quarterly basis, the retail price of bread was highest in the first three months of 1975 at an average of 37.3 cents per loaf. It dropped to 36.2 cents in April-June and then averaged 35.2 cents per loaf in each of the two remaining quarters.

TUESDAY - Steven E. Smalley, 25, of 730 Clinton Ave., reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident.

Warm air brings rain, flooding

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably warm temperatures have spread north through the Ohio Valley and eastern Great Lakes, causing significant snow melt. This, along with heavy rains, is expected to cause possible flooding on rivers and streams in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Thunderstorms continue along a cold front from western New York and the Ohio Valley into southeast Missouri. Monday afternoon and evening the storms brought severe wind damage from eastern Missouri into Ohio, including two tornadoes in southern Illinois. The storms also brought substantial rain to the area.

Officials at O'Hare International Airport at Chicago said flights were delayed nearly an hour late Monday because of a system of thunderstorms that passed through the area.

Cold air lying north of a warm front still clings to the northeastern border states. Snow is falling from eastern Wisconsin into northern Michigan.

Augusta's record high for the date was broken with an 80 and Athens set a record of 78.

Hearst jurors view closets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst returns to court today planning to resume her tale of terror at kidnapers' hands — a day after she and the jury in her trial for bank robbery toured the coffin-like closets where she was held captive in darkness.

Defense attorneys said Miss Hearst, if not too upset by her visit to the former Symbionese Liberation Army hideouts the day before, would be on the witness stand all day. She began relating her emotional saga last Friday.

The jury and Miss Hearst made a rainy-day excursion Monday to the suburban house where she was taken the night she was abducted, Feb. 4, 1974, and to the inner city apartment where she was smuggled in a garbage can 4½ weeks later.

The pale newspaper heiress broke into tears on seeing the apartment closet where she said she was kept blindfolded for 4½ weeks just before the April 15, 1974, bank robbery for which she is on trial, defense attorney Al Johnson said.

Neither chief defense counsel F. Lee Bailey nor U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. took part in the tour. The participants were the jury, Miss Hearst, other attorneys and U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter. News reporters were not allowed inside with Miss Hearst at either location.

Johnson said the seven women and five men on the jury stepped into each closet while Miss Hearst stood by the door.

The judge was the only one who spoke to the jurors, pointing out dimensions, air vents and the like at Johnson's request.

Miss Hearst has testified that several of her taped communiques from the underground were made in the closets and that she was sexually assaulted in the cramped cubicles.

The jury must decide whether she was a willing participant in the bank robbery or a scared kidnap victim acting in fear of her life.

It was in the stucco house and the apartment that, she claims, the SLA kept her and taunted her with threats of death.

The Daly City closet measured 5½ feet by 2 feet. The San Francisco apartment closet was 5 feet by 19 inches.

At the first stop, the third-floor, now-vacant $125-a-month studio apartment in San Francisco, she arrived 15 minutes before the judge and 20 minutes before the jurors.

The jury stayed inside about 15 minutes and could be seen from the street touring the studio, apparently in single file. Neighbors peered from windows and stood on the sidewalks. The two-lane street was blocked by cars.

At the house in Daly City, now occupied by a family, neighbors stood in the drizzle and ocean mist, with the street sealed off to regular traffic. The jury stayed only five minutes and Miss Hearst was the last to leave. She was returned to her San Mateo County Jail cell.

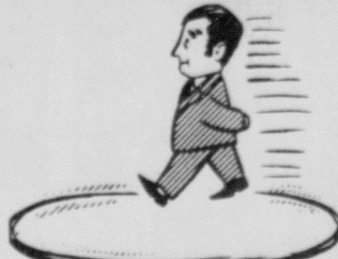

Johnson said Miss Hearst had been reluctant to revisit the closets. He said the tour was arranged, at Bailey's request, "to aid in her recollections and to accentuate in the jurors minds her testimony."

Johnson said the ordeal had left her "quite shaken." Prosecution attorneys declined to characterize the defendant's emotions.

Miss Hearst and the jurors looked at each other but did not speak, Johnson added. She was not handcuffed during her two-hour trip.

Bicycle thefts checked

Bicycle thefts topped the list of offenses on the Washington C. H. police docket today, with the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reporting no offenses.

Larry Johns, of 112 W. Paint St., reported that a boy's bicycle valued at $20 was stolen from in front of his residence around 10 p.m. Monday. Upon investigating the complaint, police officers found a different bicycle had been placed in front of the Johns home.

An orange 10-speed bicycle valued at $110 was stolen from the front yard of the home of Charles L. Wright, 827 Briar Ave., sometime late Monday afternoon. Police are investigating the theft.

Donald Oesterle, of 722 McLean St., reported the theft of a blue and white 10-speed bicycle valued at $110, discovered missing from his front yard Tuesday morning. Police are investigating the incident.

Approximately $18 in small change and two bottles of whiskey were removed from Chick-n-Bill's tavern, 608 Delaware St., sometime during the night. A pry bar and fork were apparently used to pry open the back door. Inside the premises it was discovered that a pool table and juke box had been pruned open and emptied of change.

Stage set for Soviet visit

New arms limit proposals aired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin will soon be headed for Moscow with new U.S. proposals that could point the way to a long-delayed treaty limiting offensive nuclear weapons.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger completed his outline of the new American position Monday at the White House before leaving on a visit to South America. It was the second session between the two negotiators over the long holiday weekend.

Meanwhile, Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld was quoted by Republican congressional leaders as saying that the Soviets will achieve "massive superiority" over the United States if the Russian arms buildup continues at the present rate without any limitation agreement.

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott said Rumsfeld told GOP leaders at a White House meeting today with President Ford that the Soviet buildup is putting the Russians "ahead of the United States in almost every category — except helicopters."

Scott said a U.S.-Soviet agreement

for reducing nuclear weapons could reverse the Soviet superiority. Without detente, there would be a spiraling arms race, Scott added.

Rumsfeld urged GOP leaders to help win congressional approval of the $112 billion defense budget for fiscal 1977, according to Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., chairman of the House Republican Conference.

Unless an unforeseen hitch develops, the relay of the U.S. proposals will set the stage for another Kissinger visit to Moscow within two months to try to nail down final terms that have eluded negotiators for almost 15 months.

The drive for a compromise centers on the Soviet Backfire bomber and the American cruise missile and to what extent, if any, they should be covered by a tentative agreement to hold both powers to 2,400 vehicles that could deliver nuclear weapons.

The administration's pursuit of a treaty now looms as a major political issue. Last week, campaigning in the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary, Ronald Reagan called the cruise missile "a bright spot for us in what has become a growing weapons imbalance" and warned against its limitation.

Last month, on a trip to Moscow, Kissinger received from Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev a proposed package deal that U.S. officials said includes "some significant and constructive new ideas."

Basically, these involved exempting the swing-wing medium range Backfires from the Soviet total provided the bombers are based beyond easy striking distance of the United States.

In the trade off, U.S. bombers could carry cruise missiles with ranges of up to 1,500 miles, with each bomber striking against the U.S. total while strict limits would be imposed on submarine and surface-launched versions of the lowflying drone missiles.

At a news conference last Thursday, Kissinger said after a Soviet reply to the latest U.S. counter proposal is received "we will be able to judge how close we are to an agreement and what the next step should be."

Kissinger holds talks

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is telling Venezuelan leaders not to get their hopes up for a quick end to their nation's exclusion from U.S. trade preferences.

U.S. officials said trade was one of the major topics scheduled for a working breakfast Kissinger had today with Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez and other leaders.

Kissinger's message for this first stop on a six-nation Latin American tour was that he strongly supports trade preferences for Venezuela. But he said he can do no more than hope that Congress will act favorably in the near future.

Venezuela and Ecuador were excluded from the preference system in 1974 because of the oil boycott by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC). Although both nations are members of OPEC, neither participated in the boycott, but Congress refused to exempt them from the retaliatory action.

did not identify it at the time and has not named any of the others.

The last national bank failure involved the American City Bank and Trust Co. of Milwaukee last October. The failure of the Franklin National Bank of Long Island, N.Y., in mid-1974 was the biggest bank failure in the nation's history.

Officials said the Chattanooga bank failed under a load of about $34 million in foreclosed loans and another $50 million in questionable loans sold to it by Hamilton Mortgage Co. of Atlanta. "Hamilton-Chattanooga became insolvent because of real estate loans generated by a mortgage subsidiary of the bank's parent holding company," Smith said.

First Tennessee National, with assets of $1.4 billion, will work for restoration of the Chattanooga bank. Terry said, "We bring to Chattanooga the full resources of the largest banking institution in the state."

An army of 150 FDIC agents descended on the bank, its operations center and 22 branches in the Chattanooga area at 3:45 p.m. Monday after

The meeting will be held in the Middle School cafeteria and all interested Washington C. H. area residents are invited to attend...

Smith ordered it closed. The action followed a two-month study of the bank's condition.

Officials of the bank, the largest in the crown of Hamilton Bancshares Inc., a bank holding company with assets of $1.1 billion, insisted they were not aware of the action until the federal agents arrived.

Meanwhile, negotiations were conducted late Monday for the sale of Hamilton Bank of Nashville, also owned by Hamilton Bancshares, to Nashville lawyer Frank A. Woods Jr. Woods' brother, Larry Woods, said the sale was to be consummated at a meeting of Hamilton-Nashville's and Hamilton Bancshares' directors today.

Finis L. Nelson, chairman and president of Hamilton of Nashville, said, however, "The Nashville bank is not tied in any way to the Chattanooga situation."

Hamilton Bancshares also is understood to owe about $80 million to a group of New York banks to which it gave stock in its banks in Tennessee and Georgia.

At Ohio State Fair

Grover new swine superintendent

John F. Evans, general manager of the Ohio State Fair, has appointed Philip L. Grover, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., as the new swine department superintendent at the state fair.

Grover, a community resource development specialist with the Ohio Cooperative Extension service at Ohio State University and formerly Fayette County's agricultural extension agent, replaces A.W. Jordan, of London, who retired at the closing of last year's state fair.

The appointment as the new swine department superintendent means members of the Grover family will continue to spend Phil's vacation time at fairs.

Grover shows Tamworth hogs and Dorset sheep, and has judged swine and sheep shows at three different state fairs and at county fairs.

Grover is a native of rural Highland County and is a graduate of Greenfield McClain High School. He has been an assistant superintendent in the Ohio State Fair sheep department for the past eight years. He was in charge of the department's market lamb show, the world's largest.

A member of the Fayette County Board of Education, Grover is a past president of the Washington C.H. Rotary Club and of the Ohio Cooperative Extension Agents Association.

He and his wife, Mary, have three daughters and raise hogs and sheep on the family's Maple Grove Farm at 2906 Parrott Station Road near Jeffersonville.

Grover will attend a Feb. 24 meeting of the state fair swine exhibitors in the Rhodes Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

County man killed in one-car mishap

NEW HOLLAND — A 33-year-old Fayette County man, Robert A. Carbel, of 3125 Washington-Waterloo Road, was pronounced dead on arrival at Fayette County Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning following a one-car accident in Pickaway County.

Pickaway County Sheriff's deputies reported that Carbel, who was en route to work in Clarksburg, was traveling southeast on the New Holland-Clarksburg Road when he lost control of his auto and traveled 108 feet off the right side of the road striking a tree at 7:10 a.m. Tuesday.

Carbel was taken to the hospital by ambulance where he was pronounced dead at 8:16 a.m.

Sheriff's deputies James Dixon and J. Phillip Brown investigated the accident and reported there were no witnesses. The deputies said it was not determined if Carbel was traveling at a high rate of speed.

The accident occurred four miles southeast of New Holland near the Judas Road intersection.

Carbel was the owner of the Cardinal food store in Clarksburg.

Born in Ross County, he had spent most of his life in Chillicothe. He had resided in Fayette County for one year.

He is survived by his wife, the former Patricia Norton; his mother, Mrs. Virginia Armstrong, residing in Florida; two sons, Kenard, at home, and Allen, residing in Florida; a daughter, Christina, residing in Florida, and a sister, Mrs. Jane Anderson, of Lancaster.

Arrangements for services are being completed by the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home.

Big Chattanooga bank insolvent

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Hamilton National Bank of Chattanooga prepared to open today as First Tennessee National Bank of Chattanooga, a day after the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency declared the bank insolvent, seized it and then sold it.

The bank's assets were purchased by First National Tennessee Corp., a Memphis, Tenn., bank holding company, for $16,251,000, about an hour after the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. seized it at the close of banking Monday.

"Depositors of the failed bank will automatically become depositors of the purchasing bank," the FDIC said.

Ronald Terry, chairman of First Tennessee National, said Hamilton National had deposit assets of about $450 million with about 120,000 depositors.

U.S. Comptroller James E. Smith had identified Hamilton National as one of seven national banks with total assets of $1.7 billion he had mentioned in congressional testimony two weeks ago as having serious problems. He

Community Education funding discussed

School to request land transfer

By GEORGE MALEK

The Washington C.H. Board of Education met Monday night and resolved to request transfer of a 25-acre tract of land adjacent to the Washington C.H. Industrial Park from the Miami Trace School District to the city district.

In other matters, the board accepted a bid for a new school bus and discussed the possibility of obtaining federal funds for the Washington C.H. Area Community Education program.

The city of Washington C.H. accepted annexation of the 25-acre tract owned by the Ohio Conference of the United Methodist Conference in November. In keeping the board of education's policy to maintain identical school district and city corporation boundaries, the board will make application to the state board of education to have the land transferred to the city school duplicate.

Since the tract is currently owned by a church organization, it pays no property tax, and the Miami Trace School District would lose no revenue. If, however, the land is sold at a later time to a non-church organization, it would become taxable.

Community Education program director Hank Shaffer reported to the board that there is some possibility of receiving federal funds for the Community Education program here. Funds were approved by Congress last summer, and applications will be reviewed before awards are made in July.

Shaffer said there will be more than 4,000 community education programs nationwide competing for less than 500 grants, but he felt an application should be submitted. The local program is investigating the possibility of obtaining funding for a community information center. Under the proposal, the Community Education program could serve as coordinating unit for the efforts of a variety of local agencies. These might include City Council's citizens study committee, the Community Action Commission, Help Anonymous and others.

BOSTON (AP) — Italian medical researchers have found a drug treatment they say can lead to drastic reductions in recurrence of disease in women after surgery for advanced breast cancer.

The New England Journal of Medicine, which published the study, said the treatment program could save hundreds of thousands of lives. The journal called the discovery "of monumental importance."

The study was conducted by Gianni Bonadonna of the National Cancer Institute of Italy and a team of associates.

In late 1974, the U.S. National Cancer Institute reported a clinical study had found that treatment with combinations of drugs, rather than one drug, produced longer survival times in women with advanced breast cancer.

Bonadonna, at about the same time the U.S. study was reported, said that early results from his then-incomplete study indicated a decreased recurrence rate among women receiving the drug combination.

The World Health Organization has called breast cancer the leading cause of death of middle-aged women in the Western countries.

A combination of three drugs was used to treat women who, during breast surgery, were found to have cancerous lymph nodes, the journal said. The drug treatment involved a combination of cyclophosphamide, methotrexate and fluorouracil (CMF).

In addition, federal funds will be administered through the state to create six to 10 model community education program sites. These sites would host officials of Ohio communities which were considering initiation of a community education program and would like to view an established program in operation. The sites selected (from some 62 in the state) would receive $1,000 to 4,000. Shaffer estimated, to help defray costs and improve programs.

Shaffer said although the chances of receiving such grants were relatively small, applications should be submitted, and board members agreed.

Bids on a new school bus were received by the board of education, and one new bus costing $14,622 will be purchased. The chassis will be ordered from Carroll Halliday, Inc. at a cost of $8,732. The body will be ordered from Edwin Davis and Sons for $5,772. Freight costs will add another $118.

Superintendent Edwin M. Nestor noted to the board that in compliance with federal and state law, the school system will soon begin a survey to locate as many children with learning handicaps in the district as possible. He reluctantly added that although the school may discover many handicapped children through the survey, there is no guarantee that monies will be available to provide them with special assistance.

He explained the pitfall of a law which requires the school to locate such students and then fails to provide funding. Nestor noted that the school system applied to the state for funding of two additional classrooms of handicapped children last year, but the request for aid was denied.

Mrs. Joddy Smalley, school district speech and hearing therapist, presented a slide show of the various types of speech and hearing impediments. The film also explained the role of the school therapist and her relationship to the overall program of assistance for children with such problems.

The Middle School honor roll and failure lists were presented to board members for their review. The eighth grade showed 25 per cent of the students with a 3.0 (of a possible 4.0) grade average or better. The same percentage of the students were failing at least one subject. Eight per cent failed two or more subjects through the first semester.

Of the seventh graders, 25 per cent were on the honor roll with a 3.0 average or better and another 25 per cent failed one or more subjects. However, 15 per cent failed two or more classes the first semester.

Approximately 30 per cent of the sixth graders are failing at least one class and 13 per cent are failing two or more courses.

Failures in mathematics dominated all three grades with social studies or history following a close second. Failures in English were almost nonexistent.

Middle School Principal Ben Roby noted Tuesday that mathematics seems to be the most difficult area in which to motivate students. Although several methods have been tried, the teachers find it difficult to generate interest in the math program, Roby said. He added that the low number of English failures can be attributed in part to the school's policy of attempting to allow each student to progress at his own rate in the class. Failing a student in English may not be the most effective way of motivating the student, Roby indicated. Lewis Parrett, elementary coordinator has said many times that reading is heavily stressed in the primary grades, and the system must be careful not to neglect mathematics instruction.

IN OTHER action, the board:

—Approved the purchase of a trampoline for the Middle School. Although it costs $925, the student council will pay $600 of the purchase price;

Gains made in cancer battle

The researchers said an earlier use of CMF "was recently reported to produce complete as well as partial remission in about 50 per cent of patients previously untreated with chemotherapy and to be superior to melphalan on a randomized comparison."

It said the same combination, with the addition of prednisone, had been "demonstrated in an uncontrolled series to have a high order of anti-tumor activity."

The researchers found that cancer eventually recurred in only 5 per cent of the women who had the treatment, compared with 24 per cent of those who did not, the report said.

While expressing strong optimism about the findings, the article by Bonadonna said the study lasted only 27 months and noted that the long-term effects of the chemotherapy program are unknown.

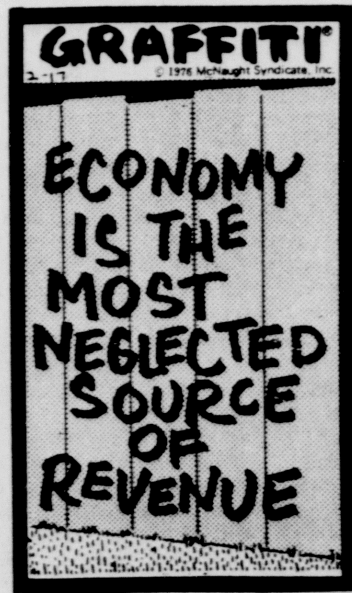

The medical journal said in an editorial the results are "nothing short of spectacular." It said the conclusions "can be accepted with confidence."

It added, "How many hundreds of thousands of lives can be improved, or indeed saved, by application of the present information in the coming decade?"

Bonadonna said despite technical advances in the past decades and other new approaches for treating breast cancer, "the over-all cure rate has remained essentially unchanged for at least 30 years."

The researchers said they found several side effects during the therapy, including loss of hair, loss of appetite, conjunctivitis and an end to menses. But they said all were reversible in most patients except cessation of menses.

The article said the patients in the study generally tolerated the side effects well and "most working women continued to work during the entire period of chemotherapy."

Citizens study committee report

General fund...where does money go

The general fund supports many city services. The citizens study committee has tried to breakdown the general fund in an understandable way. For interested citizens wanting more details, a copy of the full budget is available at the City Office Building. The figures provided by the citizens study committee are those that were in the budget before and cuts were made by Washington C.H. City Council.

Police 31.9 per cent

About one-third of the general fund goes for maintaining the Washington C.H. Police Department. Most of this amount goes for salaries to pay 13 police officers that together work three shifts. One of the articles to come will look in detail at the police department.

Fire 22.9 per cent

About one-fourth of the general fund supports the Washington C.H. Fire Department. Here again, most of the money goes for salaries. The citizens study committee will have an article dealing with the fire department, but it is important to note that the fire department has only $1,500 in its budget for capital outlay. That means no provision is being made to replace old equipment.

Health 1.3 per cent

This item in the budget is completely for the operation of the Washington Cemetery. The city of Washington C.H. shares expenses of the cemetery with Union Township and this amount is the city's share.

Social services 0.8 per cent

This amount is what the city pays the county for the feeding and other care of prisoners in the county jail.

Community environment 1.9 per cent

This item covers many different aspects of city government. Most of it is salaries for the city manager, the city manager's secretary, the city auditor, the city solicitor, city council members, the Municipal Court judge, and other workers in the city offices. It costs the city about $5,000 for each election held and this election expense is in this budget item. The salary of the income tax administrator is almost all paid by CETA funds.

"WHO'S SIDE YOU ON?"

Get on good side by right approach

By DON HYMAN Associated Press Writer

STORRS, Conn. (AP) — "Getting on someone's good side" is more than a figure of speech, says a psychologist who sees clear patterns in the way men and women prefer to be approached.

If you want to get on a stranger's "good side," said Dr. Jeffrey D. Fisher, it will mean approaching a woman from the front and a man from the side.

Fisher, an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Connecticut, said in studies on nonverbal communication he found a pattern of negative response from people when they are approached from their "bad sides."

Where a person likes to have his "personal space invaded" from is rooted in sex-linked attitudes on competition and sociability, says Fisher, an assistant professor of psychology at the University of Connecticut.

"This kind of research would indicate that some degree of misinterpretation takes place because of differences in sex," Fisher said.

In a recent article in the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, Fisher and Prof. Donn Byrne wrote: "A female who wants to befriend an unknown male may be surprised to find that a nonthreatening (to her) eyeball-to-eyeball approach causes consternation and alarm."

"In the same way, a male who attempts to ingratiate himself with an unknown female by sitting down beside her in a nonthreatening (to him) position may be surprised that he elicits a 'Miss Muffet' reaction."

Even among groups of largely the same sex, individual sensitivities can be rubbed the wrong way by ignoring preferences for how people like to preserve their personal space, said Fisher.

"Think of the Paris peace talks on Vietnam," he said, recalling the serious debate over the shape of the negotiation table — rectangular, oblong or doughnut. The participants finally agreed a doughnut-shaped table would create the least tension.

Whether they knew it or not, the doughnut decision by the diplomats tends to support the research Fisher and Byrne did when they were at Purdue University. The results were contained in the recent article.

In two different studies among 125 students in the campus library, the researchers found females felt more comfortable if they were approached face-to-face by strangers. Males preferred strangers to approach them from the side, the researchers said.

But when interacting with friends, women liked them to come from the side and men preferred a frontal approach.

The study was done by interviewers who approached subjects from different directions and recorded their answers to subjective questions.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

All of the fun with none of the benefits

DEAR ABBY: Couples living together without marriage is a bummer. In cases where both parties invest in joint properties, if the man dies in an industrial accident, the woman can claim nothing. When the property goes to probate to pay off the bills the woman is out of luck. Former wives, children and family can all claim a bigger share than this kind of "widow" can.

A good case was the woman who not only had one illegitimate child, but was carrying another. He always talked about marrying her, but never did. The husband-to-be was killed in a car wreck, wherein insurance could be claimed, but the woman had no legal standing.

If the man decides to "leave," the rejected woman must find another partner, but by that time, the woman has the reputation of a tramp.

Of course, if she can spawn enough children with matrimony, with Aid to Dependent Children, food stamps, low-cost housing and welfare, she can do pretty well and possibly even find a live-in boyfriend, which we taxpayers have to pay for. But the children from this unhappy mess is another matter, and your whole column could be filled with those problems.

MAGISTRATE IN ALASKA DEAR MAG: Yours is only one of 50 states that has its own law regarding "common-law marriages." However, your timely warning concerning the new cultural phenomenon known as "shacking up" is appreciated, and I hereby pass it on.

DEAR ABBY: My wife of 14 years has suddenly developed a strong desire for children. Both of us would enjoy having a child; however, at this time in our lives (I am 50 and she is 42), so you think it's practical for us to take on the responsibility of raising a child?

My wife constantly argues that a child would bring needed happiness and a more youthful outlook on life for both of us.

I contend it's too late for us to start out with an infant, but I am willing to adopt a child of elementary school age or even one in his (or her) early teens.

Our clergyman favors adoption. My wife's physician says she is capable of having a child.

I am more inclined to adopt a child who needs a home, but my wife feels strongly about having our own.

Please give me your views.

ABLE BUT UNWILLING DEAR ABLE: Sorry, but this is one problem that you and your wife will have to solve yourselves. Some people are "old" at 30, and others are "young" at 60. It takes love, patience, understanding, determination, energy, fortitude, generosity and time to raise a child of any age. How much have you?

DEAR ABBY: This concerns people who never seem able to accept a compliment graciously: For years I was one of these people, and it took me a long time to understand why.

It goes back to my childhood. My family (bless them) never gave me an honest-to-goodness compliment. If I looked especially nice, they would say, "You look nice-but can't you do something else with your hair?" This made it impossible to say, "Thank you." Instead, I was always trying to make apologies and put myself down.

Compliments should be given freely and without little digs to spoil them.

"THANK YOU"

DEAR THANK: And thank YOU!

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1976. There are 318 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1801, the U.S. House of Representatives broke an electoral tie between Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr and elected Jefferson President.

On this date: In 1621, Miles Standish was made military captain of the Pilgrim colony at Plymouth, Mass.

In 1813, Prussia declared war against France.

In 1916, The British and French captured Germany's African colony of Cameroon during World War I.

In 1934, King Albert I of Belgium was killed while mountain climbing near Namur, Belgium.

In 1944, in the Pacific War, American forces made an amphibious landing on Japanese-held Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

In 1964, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that congressional districts in each state must be roughly equal in population.

Ten years ago: Vice President Hubert Humphrey said in New Delhi that the U.S. would provide India a $100 million loan to aid that country's faltering economy.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon said he would put no limit on the use of American air power in Indochina except to ban tactical nuclear weapons.

One year ago: Government forces in Cambodia abandoned efforts to reopen the Mekong River. The river was under Communist control, cutting off supplies to the capital of Phnom Penh.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the first American navy of eight vessels left Cape Henlopen, Del. on what was called its first "ocean-going cruise" — a mission to the Bahamas to seek gunpowder.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)

Splendid aspects! If you time your moves judiciously, you could put over a profitable deal now. Gains and prestige enhanced all down the line.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)

Stellar influences now stimulate inspirational ideas, intuition, finesse. Inventors, architects, creative workers in general especially favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Certain favorable situations in your work area now further your interests. An excellent day for handling matters of a confidential nature.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

An auspicious day for considering a new business commitment, but keep future objectives in mind. Don't base decisions in the light of immediate gain.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Splendid solar influences stimulate your spirit of enterprise and go-gettiveness. A dandy outlook, but don't take anything for granted.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Iron out kinks in your plans and tactics. You should be able to handle and interpret situations ably now. In aiming for goals, however, don't overreach.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Reach for the unusual, the eye-catcher. Learn new methods, help create understanding among associates. Day has dandy potentials.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Be flexible enough in thought to take in a brand new idea — and make it work! Resist tendencies toward doubting and hypercriticism.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Good offerings indicated. Stress your own competence but do not hesitate to accept others' ideas if practical. Intellectual pursuits favored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Mixed influences. Certain situations may prove confusing, but remain calm. Anxiety or hasty action could further complicate matters. Use your wits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day — if you cooperate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)

When not sure, don't act. Wait until all facts are in, and know what they stand for. Situations could deceive if you are not alert.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly enthusiastic individual and, though swift in action, always use your fine intelligence and work hard at being accurate. In fact, it's a blessing to have you around in emergencies, since you always "come through" — practically as well as imaginatively. You are unusually devoted to family and friends, and are a generous host. Children take to you and you would make an outstanding teacher if you can curb a tendency toward impatience when youthful charges fail to live up to your expectations. Your integrity is unquestionable and your memory remarkable. Fields in which you could make a notable success: journalism, the state, politics, science, literature and art. Birthdate of: Andre Segovia, renowned Spanish guitarist.

Find 'pill' dangers

CHICAGO (AP) — A Kentucky medical research group reports that oral contraceptives may cause tumors of the liver.

Doctors from the University of Louisville School of Medicine wrote in the Feb. 16 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association that 13 young women developed liver tumors after taking birth control pills. Nine of the tumors were benign, four malignant.

The patients were young, non-alcoholic, generally healthy and free of liver disease, said surgeon E. Truman Mays, M.D.

The exact role of contraceptive pills in liver tumors is unproved, he said, "but a possible link between these pills and hepatic (liver) tumor seems increasingly likely."

However, a study done by the Population Council released over the weekend found that the mortality risk among women who use the pill and other major birth control measures is generally lower than the risk of death from pregnancy itself.

As an exception, the study noted that the risk of death from oral contraceptives is higher than that from pregnancy for women over 40. It recommended alternative methods of birth control for women in the over-40 age bracket.

Auxiliary makes donations, announces V of D winners

Mrs. Ambers Conley opened the meeting of the Burnett-Ducey VFW Auxiliary, 4964, in ritualistic form, and Mrs. Esther Hyer, chaplain, gave the opening prayer. Mrs. George Hooks, patriotic instructor, led the Pledge of Allegiance. Mrs. Walter Wilson acted as pro-tem in the absence of Mrs. Mabel Whitmer, conductress.

Donations were made to the Leroy Schnell Voice of Democracy contest, both Miami Trace and Washington Senior high schools' American Field Service exchange programs, and at a later date a donation is to be made to the restoration project of the fountain at Washington Cemetery, with Mr. Mac Dews Sr. as chairman.

The Voice of Democracy contest winners were Cheryl Pendleton of Miami Trace High, sponsored by the Auxiliary, and Tim O'Flynn, of Washington Senior High, sponsored by the Post, will be presented a $25 Savings Bond at a later date. Mrs. Wilson will be chairman for the refreshment booth at the Fairgrounds again during the gun show and flea market throughout the summer.

Mrs. Kenneth Harley announced she had received a note from former members, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wright of Daytona, Fla., and refreshments were served by Mrs. Hubert Ferneau and Mrs. Hyer.

Mrs. Harley and Mrs. Lela Campbell will be hostesses for the March 1 meeting. Mrs. Cloyce Copley was winner of the door prize and the meeting was closed according to the ritual.

YES, YOU CAN BE A HANDY PERSON

You can learn to diagnose plumbing problems, select tools, and make the necessary repairs. It "makes sense" to "save cents" by doing your own home maintenance.

The opportunity to learn how to do home maintenance right in your own home on TV is yours starting tonight. Our local cable TV will carry this program on Channel 8 (WOSU Channel 34) from 7:00 to 7:30 for the next nine Tuesdays.

Viewers of the first program will learn how to do simple electric repairs. Other programs include how to make and use low-cost cleaners and how to repair leaky faucets. Also, viewers will learn how to make toilet repairs and adjustments, how to caulk and weatherstrip, paint interiors and exteriors, repair walls and make storage space.

Bulletins on any of the projects taught during the series are available at no charge through the Fayette County Extension Office, 319 South Fayette Street, Washington C.H., Ohio, 43160. They may be mailed to you by calling 335-1150.

The series was created and produced by home economics specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A & M University System through a special grant from the United States Department of Agriculture. The Ohio Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring the programs in Ohio.

RECYCLING

Give your jewelry box a spring cleaning. You can turn that jewelry collection into a truly useful jewelry wardrobe.

First, sort jewelry into three groups: jewelry you are using now, item, that need repair or adjustment, and items you just never use. Give special attention to this last group—perhaps there's a way to put these unused items to work.

For example, can you update out-of-fashion items? If some jewelry items aren't the right size of proportion for you, can they be reworked into usable pieces?

You might re-string an outdated multiple strand necklace into a long rope or two medium length strands. Try different lengths to find the length that is right for you. Perhaps a single strand worn close to the neck, choker style, is the most flattering. Small chains or a single strand of small beads are fashionable this season.

Sometimes multi-colored necklaces have too many colors which create a spotty effect or compete with the outfit. Re-stringing the beads into a new color combination, using one or two colors. For a new look or to provide extra length, add new beads or even buttons.

Sometimes a necklace is now worn because some of the beads are just too large. Remove the large beads and use them for a bracelet; re-string the rest of the beads into a new necklace.

MORE RECYCLING IDEAS

The third lesson of the Wardrobe That Works Independent Study includes a booklet showing how to restyle garments for yourself or other members of the family.

Since it was not possible to include all the ideas we found, we are providing an opportunity to show a slide set and sketches from two other states, Thursday, February 26 from 12:30 to 3:00 p.m. at the Extension Office.

Anyone is welcome to attend the session in which participants are asked to bring a garment from their wardrobe that is no longer worn. The group will analyze what possible restyling or refitting is needed to again make the garment wearable. If you would like to attend this session, call us at 335-1150. There is no registration fee.

Mrs. Broberg AAUW hostess

The meeting of the American Association of University Women took place in the home of Mrs. E. F. Broberg. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Willard Rutledge and Mrs. Robert Decker. Members present were Mrs. Broberg, Mrs. Decker, Mrs. John Frederick, Mrs. W. O. Fullerton, Mrs. S. J. Kennedy, Mrs. Donald Ginn, Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. Walter Parsley, Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Stanley Scott, and Mrs. Dewey Sheidler.

Everitt Robbins, of the Ohio Water Company, was guest speaker. Mr. Robbins gave us an interesting and informative talk including the history and present operation of the water plant. He showed the new water meter that, when installed in a home, can be read from a small dial placed outside the house. Mr. Robbins answered a number of questions and assured us that the purity of our city water was checked periodically and was safe to drink. He closed by telling that water pollution problems in the United States were improving and that he didn't feel the situation was as bad as seemed to be.

The president, Mrs. Walter Parsley, conducted a brief business meeting. Reports were read and approved. Personalized desks pads were presented to the members. They were made by Mrs. Donald Foster's classes.

The March meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Gene Hughes when American Field Service exchange students will present the program.

Liberty Bell replica noted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans bitten by the Bicentennial fever have only to travel as far as the Statehouse to view a replica of the Liberty Bell.

The bell, now on display in the Capitol, was presented to the state in 1950 by the U.S. Treasury Department as part of a promotion of savings bonds, according to a spokeswoman at the Ohio Historical Society.

Each of the then 48 states, as well as Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico received a $3,100 copy of the famous bell, the historian said.

MRS. BILLY B. ROSS JR.

Wedding in Wilmington is announced to friends here

Miss Paula Ann Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ferguson of Wilmington, became the bride of Billy B. Ross Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy B. Ross Sr., also of Wilmington. The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Ferguson of 1106 Forest St., Washington C. H., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Trimmer.

The Rev. Raymond L. Umstead Sr., performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 14, in the Assembly of God Church in Wilmington.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white A-line wedding gown of sheer organza which fell to a deeply flounced hem. The bodice and upper part of the sleeves and cuffs were enhanced with lace. The bodice featured an empire waistline, and long full sleeves, with a V-neckline. Daisy lace trimmed the cuffs, hemline and the neckline. Her chapel length veil was caught to a Camelot cap. She carried an arrangement of red roses with white carnations.

Mrs. Raymond Umstead Sr., organist, and Mrs. Edgar Gardner of Carlisle, vocalist, presented the Lord's Prayer, Wedding March, and Midsummer Night's Dream.

Miss Robyn Curtis of Wilmington, maid of honor, wore a light blue dress with A-line styling, with wide empire waistline and high neckline, with royal blue jacket buttoned at the waist, with ruffled cuffs. The other attendants, bridesmaids Miss Sue Lovelace of Martinsville, Miss Debbie Ross and Miss Sandra Ross, sisters of the bridegroom, wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Curtis carried two long-stemmed red roses with white streamers, and each bridesmaid a long stemmed red rose with white streamers.

Little Susan Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Carter of Washington C. H., cousin of the bride, and the flower girl, carried a white wicker basket with red rose petals.

Mrs. Ferguson, the bride's mother, chose for her daughter's wedding a dusty blue long dress (A-line) with long lace sleeves, with teardrop opening at the neckline, and belt in the back at the empire waistline. The groom's mother wore a long gray dress with accordion pleated skirt and knit bodice with silver thread, featuring long sleeves with mock turtle neck. Both mothers had corsages of red sweetheart roses.

Hostesses for the reception held at Kelly Center, Wilmington College, were Mrs. Emerson Carter, Mrs. Samuel Reser of Dayton, both aunts of the bride, Mrs. W. A. Sargent of Xenia, Mrs. Alan Mabry, Mrs. Rick Cox, and Miss Robin Gardner, of Wilmington.

The couple will reside at 342 Columbus St., Wilmington, following a wedding trip. The new bride was wearing a blue pantsuit with the red corsage from her bridal bouquet when the couple left for the wedding trip.

The new Mrs. Ross, a 1974 Wilmington High School graduate, attended Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky., and is now employed by the Clinton County Welfare Department, Wilmington. Her husband, a 1973 graduate of Wilmington High School, is employed by Ferno-Washington, Wilmington Air Park.

The bridal party was entertained at Duff's on Friday evening following rehearsal.

Class party held for 'Valentines'

The Loyal Daughters Class members and their (Valentine) husbands of McNair Presbyterian Church held a Valentine party and potluck supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fichthorn with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hays assisting. The tables were beautiful with red hearts, red candles and white tablecloths.

Games and contests were enjoyed following the supper. Mrs. William Brickles and Richard Case were winners for the Valentine puzzle. Mrs. Russell Miller and the Rev. Wilbur Bullock won for making the most words out of "Valentine Day." The couple married the longest were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller (44 years); the couple married the shortest length of time, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Amsbury (eight years). Valentines were then distributed and each read the one she received.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kelley will be hosts for the March 2 meeting.

Those attending the party were the Rev. and Mrs. Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Amsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keaton, Mr. and Mrs. William Brickles, Mr. and Mrs. John Warnecke, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Case, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Leasure, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Waddle and the hosts and hostesses.

In EPA report on Culpepper Subdivision

Need for minor improvements noted

By GEORGE MALEK

Difficulties which have arisen concerning the Fayette County Board of Commissioners acceptance of the Culpepper Subdivision No. 3 water and sewage treatment facilities have temporarily saved subdivision residents some money, but it appears that they will more than pay for it in the long run.

The commissioners were scheduled to assume the operation of the utilities in December, and subdivision residents were to be billed $12.50 per month for these services. However, objections by residents over the quality of the water and the "high" utility bills prompted the commissioners to have the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) inspect the facilities. In the interim, subdivision residents have not been billed.

According to the EPA report, some improvements are needed in the sewage system, most of which appear to be relatively minor. They approved the water system as it now functions, but noted that it does not earn a first-quality rating. The shortcomings in the water treatment facility are likely to cause subdivision residents repeated headaches or expense in the future — perhaps both.

While the EPA reported that water in the subdivision was "safe," it did not give the water a high-quality rating. Although no "hazardous" chemicals were found, the EPA noted that the water is high in suspended solids of iron and manganese. These deficiencies in treatment detract only from the "aesthetic" quality of the water, an EPA official said, but he added that they mean additional cost to the homeowner.

The suspended solids cause little problem other than discoloration and perhaps poor taste. Manganese may create green deposits on brass household fixtures, and is not a major concern. Iron, however, can discolor clothing, collect inside pipes, add to the cost of softening water and leave rust stains on porcelain.

Although an interpretation by attorneys may be necessary to determine when and how the commissioners are bound to accept the system, it appears that the high iron content will remain in the water after acceptance of the system. The iron level is more than four times the maximum amount recommended by the EPA.

In order to qualify for Farmers Home Administration funding, the houses in the Culpepper subdivision must have central water and sewer facilities operated by a municipal authority. Therefore, an agreement was reached between developer Jess Gilmore and the county commissioners by which the operation would be handled by the county after development reached a certain stage. Until that time, the developer would bear the entire cost of the utility operation.

Gilmore feels that the required stage of development has been reached, and the commissioners are obligated to assume responsibility. The commissioners, on the other hand, feel that improvements should be made before the county accepts the facilities. It seems that Gilmore will have to make the repairs on the sewage treatment facility, but since the EPA approves the water system from a health standpoint, no improvement is required, there.

If the iron content has not been reduced, and it appears that it will not, water problems will persist. The iron in the water will continue to yield poor taste and discolor household items. Those who have water softeners will be paying a premium price to remove iron through the purchase of chemicals for the softening units.

Officials of the EPA and local engineer Donald L. Conley agreed that iron removal at the central treatment facility would be by far the least expensive method of dealing with the problem. If Gilmore is not willing to add iron treatment to the facility itself. Homeowners in the area would have to petition the county commissioners if they wanted improvement. The cost is estimated at $15,000 to $20,000 initially, and another $2 per month for each home to operate the facility and purchase chemicals.

Although this operating cost is much lower than the chemicals required by individual water softening unit, it would mean additional expense to homeowners who are already complaining of the high rates proposed.

It was reported that one of the reasons Gilmore was reluctant to construct an iron removal unit in the water treatment facility originally was the need to keep prices in the subdivision within FHA mandates. The entire cost of the homes, lots and construction of utility facilities had to be held down in order to comply with FHA restrictions, and the additional cost of an iron removal unit could have affected the eligibility of purchasers seeking FHA assistance.

Regardless of the outcome of future negotiations between Gilmore and the commissioners, residents of Culpepper Subdivision are likely to bear expenses, direct or indirect, which they may not have foreseen.

Probe leakage of secret report

CLEVELAND (AP) — A full scale investigation of the sale of a secret House intelligence committee report to a New York City newspaper was called for Monday by U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

"There is ample evidence that there have been abuses within our nation's intelligence community," Taft said. "But to cripple our vital intelligence arm in the course of guarding against further abuses merely feeds our foreign adversaries the ammunition they so desperately need to wage their war on America."

CBS correspondent Daniel Schorr has said he provided the report, which the House voted to keep secret, in exchange for a payment to be channeled to the Reporters' Committee for Freedom of the Press.

To meet customer requirements

DP&L plans record construction

DAYTON — In order to meet the growing consumer requirements for more electricity and conform to environmental regulations, the Dayton Power and Light Co. will have to spend approximately $116 million in 1976 for construction of new facilities, company officials have announced.

The construction budget is the largest in the company's history. About 98 per cent of the money will be spent for electric facilities, and about $16.3 million will have to be spent for environmental protection equipment.

In 1976, the Dayton Power and Light Co. will spend $85.5 million as its share for generation and transmission projects being built in common ownership with The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co. (CG&E) and Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. (CSOE).

A 500,000 kilowatt electric generating unit, scheduled for operation in 1978 at CG&E's Miami Fort Station near Cleaves, Ohio is now under construction. The Dayton Power and Light Co. will own 36 per cent of this unit with DP&L's share of the construction for 1976 totaling $21.9 million.

Construction is about 40 per cent completed on an 840,000 kilowatt generating unit at the William H. Zimmer Nuclear Power Station near Moscow, Ohio. It is scheduled for commercial operation in 1979. DP&L will own 31.5 per cent of the unit with CG&E and CSOE also participating in ownership. DP&L's share of construction costs for the Zimmer plant in 1976 will be $34.1 million.

Two 600,000 kilowatt generating units are planned for each of two sites; one in Adams County, Ohio, and another at East Bend, Kentucky. One unit is scheduled for completion in each of the four years 1980 through 1983. DP&L will own 49 per cent of each of these units which will be built in cooperation with the Cincinnati company. DP&L's construction costs for these units will be $19.3 million in 1976; and Construction is continuing on the commonly-owned 345,000 volt transmission network which connects the commonly-owned generating stations to the service areas of the three companies. This will require $6.5 million from DP&L this year.

Expansion of electric transmission and distribution facilities in the DP&L service area will cost $21.7 million in 1976. A major project will be the construction of a new substation in Shelby County. The new facility, Shelby substation, will be located one mile east of Pasco on the Feree Road and will receive electricity at 345,000 volts and reduce it to 138,000 volts for transmission to other area DP&L substations. This project will require an outlay of $1.9 million in 1976 and is necessary to provide for future load growth and improve reliability and quality of service to this region.

A number of other important electric transmission and distribution projects are scheduled to be started this year.

In Shelby county the company will complete a 138,000-volt electric line from the new Shelby substation located one mile east of Pasco on the Feree Road to the Quincy substation located on the east side of the Logan County Road north of the Champaign-Logan County Road. The line construction and associated work at the Quincy substation will require an expenditure of $247,000 in 1976;

An outlay of $554,000 is budgeted in 1976 for the construction of 20.3 miles of 138,000-volt electric line from the company's West Milton substation, located on Garland Road at Moore Road, to the Greenville substation which is located at the Sebring-Warner Road near Greenville;

Construction costs at the company's Airway substation will total $149,000 in 1976. This is for the installation of a second transformer;

At the Kingscreek substation at Urbana, Ohio a second transformer will be installed. This will cost $80,000; A second transformer and associated switchgear will be added to DP&L's Needmore substation on Webster Street in Dayton. This project will cost $285,000;

The 1976 construction budget also includes plans for building a new electric substation one-half mile west of Bellbrook on Ohio 725. Cost of this project is estimated at $602,000;

A new electric substation will be constructed on the Lower Bellbrook Road south of the Ohio 42 bypass near Xenia at a cost of $665,000;

ABA fight slated over advertising

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A limited proposal to let lawyers advertise faces strong opposition today as the American Bar Association winds up its midwinter meeting here.

"Some say it is going to get clobbered," said former ABA President Chesterfield Smith of Lakeland, Fla. But Smith predicted a close vote, probably to approve. Few if any delegates expected the proposal to carry by a substantial margin.

In action on Monday, the association's policy-making House of Delegates:

—Postponed action on a proposal calling for guidelines for judicial "gag orders" governing publicity about

Sabina solons approve holidays for employees

SABINA — Sabina village council met Monday night and gave final approval to an ordinance establishing holidays for village employees.

The named six holidays for which employees will be paid. They are Christmas, New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The ordinance establishing the holidays was placed on its third and final reading and then approved by council.

Council members also approved the leasing of a new copying machine at a cost of $54.46 per month. This cost is $3 per month higher than the rate for the older machine, but council expects to receive better copying capabilities.

No action was taken concerning fire protection contracts with surrounding areas. Contracts have been sent by the village, but one of the four has yet been returned. The contracts call for the cost as last year.

After routine bills, mostly payroll, in the amount of $4,000 were paid, the meeting was recessed until Friday. In the interim, council members will review the village's real property to determine whether or not it is adequately insured. They will meet with insurance representatives Friday.

criminal cases. It was postponed at the request of news media organizations because the Supreme Court is expected to rule on the issue this spring or summer.

—Rejected by a two-vote margin a proposal to repeal criminal penalties for prostitution.

—Overrode Justice Department objections and recommended creation of a three-judge court with power to appoint a special prosecutor.

—Recommended that unanimous jury verdicts be required for criminal convictions, even though the Supreme Court has said this is not constitutionally necessary.

—Approved by voice vote a proposal to create a National Court of Appeals as a buffer between federal circuit courts of appeals and the Supreme Court.

—Recommended that state courts, which say they are being short-changed in distribution of Law Enforcement Assistance Administration funds, be guaranteed a voice in how the money is divided.

The proposal on advertising would allow lawyers to include in directory listings some information about their fees and the areas of law on which they concentrate.

There is strong pressure for its approval because of lawsuits attacking the ABA ban on lawyer advertising in the wake of a Supreme Court ruling that the legal profession does not enjoy a blanket exemption from antitrust laws.

A suit by Consumers Union challenging the ABA restriction on publication of lawyers' fees and specialties is set for trial before a three-judge federal court in Richmond, Va., March 25.

Wendy's reports earnings rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Record 1975 operating results were reported Monday by Wendy's International Inc.

Net income reached $2.7 million, up 143 per cent from $1.1 million a year earlier, chairman R. David Thomas said.

That represented 84 cents a share on revenue of $29.6 million.

Calliope readied for ship

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A computer programmer has added electronic wizardry to lore from the age of steam to come up with a $35,426 calliope for the new Mississippi Queen steamboat that will really pack a wallop.

"It's going to be awfully loud," says Arthur Davis of Seattle, Wash., who constructed the 44-whistle instrument he says is the largest calliope in the world.

It will be heard for the first time next month when the $17 million Mississippi Queen is ready for trial runs on the Ohio River.

The steamboat is being built at the Jeffboat, Inc., shipyards in Jeffersonville, Ind., by the Delta Queen Steamboat Co. of Cincinnati.

Davis set out two years ago to construct the calliope, in his basement, and with help from his wife, Dina, completed the instrument last fall.

"It is certainly an unusual instrument. Its size alone makes it unique, but it will have several other features that no calliope has ever had before," said Davis, reached in Seattle by telephone Monday.

The calliope's whistles are made of brass, coated with 14-carat gold for tarnish resistance, he said.

Davis tested the machine at the Seattle Civic Center in a public concert and found it even louder than expected. It could be heard five miles away.

Member renamed to zoning board

The Fayette County Board of Commissioners sat through a slow Tuesday morning but were to have plenty of activity later today.

The only action taken during the morning was to re-appoint Wilbur Rapp, 4046 Bloomingburg-New Holland Road, to the Fayette County Zoning Board of Appeals. The appointment is contingent on Rapp's willingness to again serve in the post.

This afternoon, a meeting is scheduled with Dr. William Covert, Fayette County health commissioner; the final hearing on the R.C. Hunt ditch improvement is slated, and the Fayette County Regional Planning Commission will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m.

A meeting with Ora Burdge of New Holland is scheduled next Monday. Burdge is expected to address the commissioners concerning the bicentennial celebration.

The commission will contact Jess Gilmore to arrange a meeting in the near future to discuss the Culpepper Subdivision No. 3 utility problems.

CONCERT SCHEDULED — The Miami University A Cappella Singers, a mixed choral group of approximately 90 members, will present a concert at 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22 in the sanctuary of the Grace United Methodist Church, corner of E. Market and N. North streets. Best known for their 1969 European tour with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, the choir is directed by Dr. Paul Aliapoulos.

The choir plans a varied program, beginning with a few old anthems, several numbers with a bicentennial flavor and ending with a lively George M. Cohan medley. The choir will also sing the anthems for the morning worship service at the Grace United Methodist Church. Fayette County students in the choir are John Hopkins, LuAnne Pontious and John Schlichter.

Sectional tournament pairings set

Blue Lions choose McClain, Trace draws Portsmouth

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Next week, the Washington C. H. Blue Lions and the Miami Trace Panthers will begin play in the new basketball season — sectional tournaments.

Both Fayette County squads, having failed to secure any regular season honors with the exception of finishing close behind once-beaten Circleville in the SCOL, will have a chance to turn this season into a memorable one.

Coach Gary Shaffer's Blue Lions will play in the class AA sectional at Unioto again this year. Washington C. H. made it to the tournament finals last season before losing to Greenfield McClain.

The similarities between last year's remarkable McClain team and this year's Blue Lion squad is worth noting.

Last year, McClain finished second in the league behind Circleville with a record that Washington C. H. could duplicate before the season is out. The Tigers went on to win the district title and to challenge for the regional title.

McClain beat Washington C. H. three times last year including the sectional finals win over the Blue Lions. Shaffer's team has beaten McClain twice this season and the Blue Lions would like to make it three out of three.

However, that is not one of the reasons Shaffer chose to play Greenfield instead of Hillsboro in the first round of the sectional.

Washington C. H. received the top seed in this year's sectional — through the strength of an 11-5 record — giving Shaffer the choice of which bracket, the upper or lower, he wanted.

The Blue Lion coach chose the upper bracket pitting Washington C. H. against McClain instead of the lower bracket which would have meant playing Hillsboro.

Shaffer said he selected the upper bracket position because the opening round game would be played on a Friday night.

The Blue Lions will open the sectional on a Friday, and providing they win, they will play again on a Wednesday before the following championship match slated on a Saturday. This schedule will place the Blue Lions' games on days more to Shaffer's liking than the lower bracket schedule.

As far as choosing between Greenfield and Hillsboro, Shaffer said he was not too concerned about which team he played.

"We'd rather play Hillsboro, because of the fact, that it would have been easier to get the team up since we lost one game to them this season," Shaffer said. "But, we would like to play Greenfield again too, because they beat us three times last year and now we have a chance to do the same."

When Washington C. H. chose the upper bracket, second seeded Waverly was dropped to the lower bracket to face Hillsboro. Federal Hocking drew the upper bracket bye while Vinton County received the lower bracket bye.

The Miami Trace Panthers will play their sectional games in Athens this year. The tournament was moved from Rio Grande College to the Ohio University Convocation Center in hopes of attracting more paying fans.

Another ploy to pack the fans into this year's class AAA sectional is the scheduling of all three first-round games on the same night.

The night is Saturday, Feb. 28, and Miami Trace will play in the second game against Portsmouth.

Top-seeded Lancaster takes on Athens in the evening's first game while Chillicothe and second-seeded Marietta meet after the Panthers' contest. Logan received the upper bracket bye.

If Miami Trace beats Portsmouth, the Panthers would play either Chillicothe or Marietta the following Thursday for the lower bracket championship.

The winners of the two brackets will then move to Marietta College for the sectional finals on March 12.

Erving, Nets edge Colonels, 100-99

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Kevin Loughery sees him every day and says he still gets surprised. Hubie Brown sees him once a week or so and just sits back to watch in admiration.

Both coaches were talking of Julius Erving, a sinewy forward whose legendary play has earned him the nickname "Dr. J." Several other players, professional and collegiate, have been called Dr. Something-or-other, but there's only one Doctor. Just ask the coaches.

"What you saw tonight was a super star performance," said Brown, whose Kentucky Colonels dropped a 100-99 American Basketball Association decision Monday night to Erving's New York Nets. The game was the only pro basketball action Monday night.

Our Vindicator wins feature at Latonia

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Jockey Michael Bryan moved Our Vindicator to the outside at the top of the stretch and romped to a 1½-length victory in the $3,500 featured eighth race at Latonia Monday night.

The winning time was 1:15.1-5 for the six furlongs and the payoff was $3.20, $2.20 and $2.20. Magic Print placed, $2.60 and $2.60 and Jumping Around finished third, $2.60.

McKinley finishes season atop poll

By GEORGE STRODE
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Canton McKinley, its regular season finished with 18 straight victories, apparently has wrapped up The Associated Press' Class AAA state high school basketball poll championship.

The Bulldogs polled 302 points, 35 ahead of second-place Barberton, which has a game at Massillon Friday.

The Class AA poll leader, Delphos St. John, still has two games to play before it can claim an AP regular season championship. The Blue Jays (16-0) play St. Marys Friday and Lima Catholic Sunday.

Gnadenhutten Indian Valley South, a 55-53 upset victim of rival Midvale Indian Valley North last week, still finished its season in the No. 1 spot in Class A. The Rebels will carry a 17-1 record into tournament play.

St. John piled up 249 points to 207 for No. 2 Warsaw River View in the Class AA voting by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Indian Valley South collected 244 points and runnerup Arcanum, a former state tournament champion.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here's how a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters rates Ohio high school basketball teams this week for The Associated Press (10 points for first to 1 point for 10th):

Rutgers moves up in cage standings

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The undefeated Scarlet Knights of Rutgers continued their assault on No. 1, and Indiana held onto its top ranking in The Associated Press major college basketball poll released today.

Rutgers — with a pair of victories last week, one a 92-81 overtime decision over Manhattan — picked up one first-place vote and moved up from fifth to fourth.

Rutgers, 21-0 through Sunday, picked up 815 points in balloting by a country-wide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Indiana, also 21-0 after victories over Michigan State and Illinois last week, received first-place votes on 60 of 63 ballots cast for 1,254 points.

Marquette and North Carolina continued to hold down the No. 2 and 3 spots. The Terrapins, 19-1, received 1,064 points after downing Virginia Tech 68-61, and the Tar Heels, 20-2, picked up 996 points after beating Maryland and Tulane.

The loss dropped Maryland from fourth to seventh.

UCLA, 19-3, also continued to move up in the poll after beating Washington State and Washington for a second time. The Bruins were fifth with one first-place vote and 758 points.

Nevada-Las Vegas, 24-1 and recipient of the other top vote not going to Indiana, climbed from seventh to sixth with 613 points after clubbing Centenary 122-92. Maryland, now 18-4, received 601 points from balloters for seventh.

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame moved from 10th to eighth after a trio of victories last week. The Irish, with a 17-4 record, received 403 points.

Tennessee and Alabama held down the last two spots in the Top Ten. Tennessee, 19-3, had been eighth last week but, after losing to Florida, dropped to ninth with 403 points. Alabama beat Florida last week and moved from 11th to 10th with 333 pints.

Baseball training camps await talks

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It's very much like any other baseball road trip ... two weeks and six cities long. But Marvin Miller's current nationwide journey is considerably more vital than a ball club's ordinary mid-season swing.

The results of Miller's meetings with the players and continuing negotiations with the owners will determine whether spring training will start on time or, in fact, whether it will start at all.

Baseball's rites of spring usually begin in the last week of February with pitchers and catchers reporting first, followed by other players, who are usually due in camp by March 1.

But no dates have been set for spring training, 1976, and the time is growing short if camps are to open on time. That is why the owners' negotiators have decided to follow Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, on his trip. Negotiations will continue while Miller briefs the players on the status of the talks.

The two sides met Monday in Los Angeles, with Miller set to talk to the players there today. On Wednesday, National League owners meet in Chicago and it's no coincidence that the site is the same hotel where Miller will be talking to players Thursday.

Miller moves on to Cincinnati Friday, returning to New York for a Saturday negotiating session before moving on to Houston and Philadelphia next week and concluding his swing in Miami March 2.

Publicly, the owners have maintained that they want to start spring training on time. Miller would be agreeable to that, but the owners insist that before they open camps they will have an agreement with the players. That simply may be impossible to accomplish in the two short weeks before the traditional March 1 start, especially with the two sides far apart on most issues.

Indiana pulls out Purdue win

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
Indiana, the college basketball team with 51 varieties of successful recipes, found a 52nd against Purdue.

—Start with a red-hot Boilermaker, add an 11-point first-half deficit for flavor, then throw in your surprise ingredient: a bench with very little seasoning.

—Place ingredients in a pressure cooker.
—At halftime, put the Boilermaker in a dressing room and let it cool for 15 minutes. Serve with some hot shooting of your own in the second half.

Hoosiers' Coach Bobby Knight, master chef of a 32-game Big Ten winning string, used the concoction to advantage Monday night when Scott May and Quinn Buckner got into early

Big 10 cage action heavy

By The Associated Press
"I felt really confident in the last minute that we would win," All-American Scott May said after top-ranked Indiana pulled a squeaker out of the fire.
May drilled in 26 points to lead the Hoosiers back from an 11-point first-half deficit Monday night to a 74-71 victory over Purdue in Big Ten Basketball action.
In other games, Illinois whipped Ohio State 91-73, Iowa beat Northwestern 81-68, Minnesota dumped Wisconsin 98-74 and Michigan topped nonconference Eastern Michigan 94-76.
Purdue confined the 6-foot-7 May to just six points in the first period as Hoosier starters got into early foul trouble against a fired up attack.
But Indiana, now 13-0 in the Big Ten and 22-0 over all, battled back from a 27-16 deficit with four reserves in the lineup and pulled within two points late in the first half.
In the second half, the Hoosiers, led by May and Tom Abernethy, outscored the Boilermakers 10-2 to take the lead for good. Two free throws by May with two seconds to go gave Indiana the victory.
Purdue, topped by Parker's 23 points and Jordan's 14, fell to 8-5 in the league and 13-9 over all.
At Minneapolis, sophomore center Mike Thompson scored 33 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to lead Minnesota past Wisconsin.
Thompson, who hit 21 points in the first half, scored the first three points of the game as the Gophers raced to an 11-0 lead in the first four minutes.
Minnesota had a 26-point lead, 43-17, with 5½

minutes left in the first half and held a 51-32 lead at halftime.
With five minutes left in the game, the Gophers led by 36, 95-59, and Coach Jim Dutcher emptied his bench.
At Champaign, Rich Adams scored 29 points as the Illini raced out to an early lead and easily outpaced the Buckeyes.
The score was tied at 16-all early in the first half when Illinois spurred to a 28-18 edge. They stayed in control the rest of the way, piling up a 48-37 advantage at the half.
Ohio State's Judd Wood dropped in 19 points, 15 of them in the first half, to tie Terry Burris for Buckeye scoring honors.
The match left Illinois 7-7 in conference play and 14-9 over all. Ohio State fell to 2-11 in the Big Ten and 6-15 on the year.
At Iowa City, Dan Frost, with 25 points and 12 rebounds, paced Iowa over Northwestern despite a late Wildcat rally.
The Hawkeyes led 38-30 at halftime and built their lead to 60-47, but Northwestern, behind the shooting of guard Billy McKinney, cut the lead to 68-64 with three minutes left in the game.
Iowa held on and outscored the Wildcats 13-4 in the remaining minutes.
Iowa is now 7-5 in the Big Ten and 17-6 over all, while Northwestern fell to 5-9 and 10-13.
Michigan easily rolled over rival Eastern Michigan as Rickey Green scored 25 points and Phil Hubbard had 24 to help raise 16th-ranked Wolverines to an overall record to 17-and-5. Eastern fell to 7-and-15 for the season.

foul trouble and top-ranked Indiana was looking up from a 27-16 score. Knight called on four reserves, who brought the Hoosiers within two points late in the opening period.
"At halftime, the coach just told us to play our game and stay hot," observed May, who scored just six points in the first half but finished with 26.
When the second half began, the Hoosiers took off on a 10-2 surge that gave them the lead for good in what finished as a 74-71 triumph over Purdue. Indiana led 58-48 with 11 minutes remaining before the Boilermakers came within one on a jump shot in the closing seconds.
"But I felt really confident in the last minute that we would win," added May. And win they did — two free throws by May with two seconds remaining insuring Coach Knight's reputation as the top cook in college basketball these days.
The victory was the 52nd straight in regular season play for the Hoosiers, 22-0 this season and 13-0 in the conference. Purdue dropped to 8-5 in Big Ten play, 13-9 over-all.
Seven other Top Twenty teams played Monday night. No. 2 Marquette clubbed Tulane 75-63; eighth-ranked Notre Dame bopped Butler 92-79; Auburn upset ninth-rated Tennessee 73-72 in overtime; No. 10 Alabama topped Mississippi 78-70; Michigan, ranked 15th, blasted Eastern Michigan 94-76; No. 16 St. John's, N.Y., trimmed Seton Hall 68-63, and DePaul surprised No. 18 Virginia Tech 73-65.
Marquette, 20-1, ran its winning streak to 10 games behind 23 points by Earl Tatum. The Warriors have won at least 20 games in each of their last 10 seasons.
Notre Dame was paced by Adrian Dantley's 27 points, although Butler's Wayne Burris led all scorers with 30.
Eddie Johnson scored with six seconds left to tie the game, then hit three free throws in the last 10 seconds of overtime to lift Auburn past Tennessee.
Leon Douglas scored 35 points to help Alabama take the Southeastern Conference lead — thanks to Auburn's victory. Rickey Green scored 25 points and Phil Hubbard 24 as Michigan pounded Eastern Michigan for the 10th time in a row.
George Johnson scored 20 points to lead St. John's, and Joe Ponsetto scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half to lead DePaul from behind to its seesaw victory over Virginia Tech. —

Set Olympics facilities

MONTREAL (AP) — Construction workers appear headed towards an Olympic record in the "speed building" event, according to the latest tour of facilities to be used in the next Summer Games.
When the International Olympic Committee gave its last tour of the site of next July's competition, observers were presented with a stadium frame that seemingly never would be ready in time — not to mention swimming and diving pools in similar situation.
But during a new inspection Monday, a different picture had developed. The main swimming pool had taken form, the diving tower had sprouted and Victor Goldbloom — the Quebec minister responsible for the Olympics installations board — said that work on the stadium had progressed to such a degree that catastrophe plans, formulated on the possibility that the stadium would not be ready, had been scrapped.
"The stadium is taking shape," said Goldbloom. "The seating is beginning to be in place — that is to say, the concrete slabs on which the seating will be placed — in about one-quarter of the stadium ring at the upper two levels.
Refurbished Yankee Stadium in New York reopens April 15 with the home club facing the Minnesota Twins.

Ohio University profs eye quakes

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — The relation of earthquakes to the structure of the earth's surface is being studied by two Ohio University professors under grants totaling over $41,000.

Dr. Robert S. Yeats, professor of geology, was awarded a $20,480 grant to study geological faults related to the magnitude of a 6.6 earthquake that struck Los Angeles in 1971.

Dr. Tomoyasu Tanaka, professor of physics, will study the properties, structure and dynamics of earth materials with a $20,631 grant.

Flood insurance for South Point

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Village of South Point in Lawrence County is eligible for flood insurance, the National Flood Insurers Association has announced.

Private insurance agents and brokers are authorized to offer flood insurance to residential and nonresidential property owners in the area, the NFIA said.

Opening lead - jack of hearts.

Let's assume you're in seven spades and West leads the jack of hearts. Offhand it seems you need a successful club finesse, but further study reveals that you have much more than just a straight 50 per cent chance for the contract.

You win the heart lead with the king and draw three rounds of trumps, finding them divided 3-2. You then cash the A-K of diamonds, both opponents following suit, at which point your chances of making the grand slam suddenly rise to 100 per cent.

You play the A-Q of hearts, discarding the 10-9 of diamonds, and ruff a diamond, thus establishing dummy's eight as a trick. It is then a simple matter to lead a low club to the king, discard your eight of clubs on the eight of diamonds, and so make the grand slam without risking a club finesse.

Note that in pursuing this method of play you do not at any point relinquish your chance of making the contract with a successful club finesse. If the diamonds prove to be divided 4-1 when you lead the A-K, you would still discard the 10-9 of diamonds on the A-Q of hearts, and only then would you fall back on the club finesse.

The principle that applies here is a fairly common one. Whenever the outcome appears to depend on the favorable location of a particular card — in the present case, the queen of clubs — declarer must look beyond that for an alternative line of play that either reduces or eliminates the luck factor associated with a finesse.

A different way of stating the same principle is to say that declarer always tries to find an alternative method of play that gives him two chances to make the contract instead of one.

Fructose Speeds Sobering-Up

I have heard that it is now possible to use some chemical to sober up after a bout of drinking. Do you know anything about this?

Mr. S.L., Minn.

Dear Mr. L.:
A series of experiments have been going on in an effort to find a way of removing alcohol from the blood, as a sobering-up process.

Fructose is a specialized type of sugar which apparently accomplishes this purpose, with a fair degree of speed.

This particular type of sugar is very expensive. For this reason sucrose, another sugar derivative, is being used for the same purpose.

A group of alcoholic volunteers was studied. It was found that both fructose and sucrose were "found to be more effective in hastening the removal of alcohol from the blood than ordinary glucose (the most common sugar)."

Those who have been studying this advise that patients with liver disease should not by themselves embark on a program of self-treatment with these sugars. Complications have been reported, despite its value as a reducing agent of alcohol in the blood.

Has anybody ever verified the longest pregnancy?

Mrs. B.F., Wisc.

Dear Mrs. F.:
In a recent edition of the Guinness Book of World Records, there is documented evidence of a pregnancy that lasted 398 days. The child, a girl, was born healthy. She weighed 7 pounds.

Now it comes to light that an 8 lb. son was born after a 13½ month pregnancy.

A great deal of skepticism still exists in some quarters about both of these long pregnancies.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH... Many young children are labeled "slow learners," "slow readers" and "poor students" because of undetected visual and hearing defects. When these are corrected, many of these children return to full peer activity and normal educational levels.

You wouldn't believe the number of interesting historical pictures and photographs of Fayette County scenes that are coming to light this year of the bicentennial. Lots of folks have these old pix in their albums and scrapbooks. If someone could get his hands on all of them and make slides of them to make a master historical slide show it would be really something fantastic. We know several lensmen who are making slides of all the old pix they can get their hands on, but there are so many interesting scenes missing from each of the shows. It's unfortunate there isn't a historical group in the county to coordinate this effort.

The county should be photographically recorded for this bicentennial year. There are many fine amateurs in the area capable of doing an excellent job on such an assignment. The first guy I think of is Stu Gossard. Stu's uncanny sense of compositional quality together with his many years of technical mastery of the photographic process gives him the edge on nearly any photo assignment. Then there's Ed Summers. Ed sees the picture that lesser lensmen stumble over and pass on. Ed's stuff has the quality we call "impact." And there are some new people I'd like to see tackle some of this documentation, like Don Turner, and Bill Metais, and then there's Susan Rockhold (there's a gal with a great sense of composition), Howard Miller (always the perfectionist), and Dr. John Jordan who has the fresh picture approach of a youngster and the technique of an old experienced pro.

You know, Susan Rockhold's eye for composition reminds me of Martha Bireley's natural sense of pictorial quality. Some people have this sense as a natural thing, while others develop this photographic eye from experience.

Once again let me remind you that Alan Stang (yep, he's the guy on THE ALAN STANG REPORT) will speak at the Eastside Gymnasium, Tuesday, March 2, at 8 p.m. You can get tickets now at the camera shop, $1.50. And listen to the ALAN STANG REPORT every weekday morning at 8 a.m. on WCHO radio.

Officers investigate five traffic mishaps

A Washington C.H. man was charged after striking a car in the rear and leaving the scene of the accident. Washington C.H. police officers also reported three other accidents two involving parking lot mishaps. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a one-car accident on the Greenfield-Sabina Road in which a car was demolished.

POLICE
TUESDAY, 7:30 a.m. - A car driven by Steven Smalley, 25, of 730 Clinton Ave., struck in the rear a westbound car driven by Horace Wilson, 64, of 530 Mayfair Drive, when the Wilson auto was attempting to turn off of W. Court Street. According to police, Smalley then drove off, running a red light in the process and was apprehended on Draper Street. He was cited for reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident. Damage was minor.

MONDAY, 4:50 p.m. - A car driven by Roberta J. Smith, 18, of 217 East St., was pulling from a parking space on East Street when she struck a car driven by Michael J. Lander, 30, of 321 Grove Ave., which was backing on East Street, 200 feet east of the S. Fayette Street intersection. Damage was moderate.

4:15 p.m. - A car parked in Clark's Cardinal parking lot belonging to David F. Blamer, 427 Third St., was struck by a car driven by Faye S. McIntosh, 30, Rt. 4, which was in the process of backing from a parking space. Damage was slight.

11:51 a.m. - As he was driving in the K-Mart store parking lot, Robert E. Case, 40, Austin-Good Hope Road, stated that he saw a car driven by Terry A. Duffy, 16, of 217 Ohio Ave., approaching, but was unable to stop. Duffy said that he swerved but was unable to avoid the collision. Damage was slight.

SHERIFF

MONDAY, 6:05 p.m. - A car driven by William J. Fannin, 17, 5284 Ohio St., swerved off of a curve on the Greenfield-Sabina Road near the Barrett Road intersection traveled through a ditch and turned over twice in the adjacent field. The car was demolished and Fannin was charged with driving while intoxicated, and driving while license was under suspension.

Consumer bread prices rise despite drop in wheat cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary government figures show that consumers paid 1.5 cents more per loaf of bread last year than in 1974, despite a drop in the value of wheat and other farm-produced ingredients in it.

The figures, an average for the entire 12 months, showed that a one-pound loaf of white bread cost an average retail price of 36 cents in 1975, compared with 34.5 cents in 1974.

According to the Agriculture

Department's Economic Research Service, the farm value of wheat in a single loaf was 4.5 cents last year, compared with 3.5 in 1974.

Including other ingredients such as non-fat dry milk, shortening and sugar, the total farm value of ingredients in a 1975 loaf was 6.8 cents, down from 8 cents in 1974, the report said.

According to the figures, the retail price increase resulted from higher middleman charges between the time wheat and other ingredients left the farm and when bread was put on retail shelves.

The wholesale price was 31.4 cents per loaf last year, up from 28.6 in 1974. The spread between wholesaler and retailer dropped to 4.6 cents last year from 5.8 in 1974.

According to the report, the price of wheat used to make flour averaged $3.60 per bushel over the entire 1975 calendar year in major wheat states. That compared with $4.04 per bushel in 1974.

On a quarterly basis, the retail price of bread was highest in the first three months of 1975 at an average of 37.3 cents per loaf. It dropped to 36.2 cents in April-June and then averaged 35.2 cents per loaf in each of the two remaining quarters.

Car fire doused

Washington C.H. firemen were summoned at 3:10 p.m. Monday to a fire reported in a car located on E. Court Street.

The fire in the car belonging to James Penwell, of 3263 Ford Road, had been extinguished by the time the fire truck arrived.

Arrests

SHERIFF

MONDAY - William J. Fannin Jr., 17, of 5284 Ohio St., driving while intoxicated, driving while license under suspension; James V. Lawrence, 46, Dayton, driving while intoxicated.

POLICE

MONDAY - Harry G. Emlinger, 19, Lima, speed; Roberta J. Smith, 18, of 217 East St., starting without safety. TUESDAY - Steven E. Smalley, 25, of 730 Clinton Ave., reckless operation and leaving the scene of an accident.

Warm air brings rain, flooding

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably warm temperatures have spread north through the Ohio Valley and eastern Great Lakes, causing significant snow melt. This, along with heavy rains, is expected to cause possible flooding on rivers and streams in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

Thunderstorms continue along a cold front from western New York and the Ohio Valley into southeast Missouri. Monday afternoon and evening the storms brought severe wind damage from eastern Missouri into Ohio, including two tornadoes in southern Illinois. The storms also brought substantial rain to the area.

Officials at O'Hare International Airport at Chicago said flights were delayed nearly an hour late Monday because of a system of thunderstorms that passed through the area.

Cold air lying north of a warm front still clings to the northeastern border states. Snow is falling from eastern Wisconsin into northern Michigan.

Augusta's record high for the date was broken with an 80 and Athens set a record of 78.

Hearst jurors view closets

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst returns to court today planning to resume her tale of terror at kidnapers' hands — a day after she and the jury in her trial for bank robbery toured the coffin-like closets where she was held captive in darkness.

Defense attorneys said Miss Hearst, if not too upset by her visit to the former Symbionese Liberation Army hideouts the day before, would be on the witness stand all day. She began relating her emotional saga last Friday.

The jury and Miss Hearst made a rainy-day excursion Monday to the suburban house where she was taken the night she was abducted, Feb. 4, 1974, and to the inner city apartment where she was smuggled in a garbage can 4½ weeks later.

The pale newspaper heiress broke into tears on seeing the apartment closet where she said she was kept blindfolded for 4½ weeks just before the April 15, 1974, bank robbery for which she is on trial, defense attorney Al Johnson said.

Neither chief defense counsel F. Lee Bailey nor U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. took part in the tour. The participants were the jury, Miss Hearst, other attorneys and U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter. News reporters were not allowed inside with Miss Hearst at either location.

Boater decals set by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio boaters will help celebrate the nation's 200th birthday with red, white and blue registration decals, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources says.

The 1976 decals, required on all boats operating in Ohio waters, have an outline of the state in red and the numerals 76 in stars and stripes on a white background.

Johnson said the seven women and five men on the jury stepped into each closet while Miss Hearst stood by the door.

The judge was the only one who spoke to the jurors, pointing out dimensions, air vents and the like at Johnson's request.

Miss Hearst has testified that several of her taped communiques from the underground were made in the closets and that she was sexually assaulted in the cramped cubicles.

The jury must decide whether she was a willing participant in the bank robbery or a scared kidnap victim acting in fear of her life.

It was in the stucco house and the apartment that, she claims, the SLA kept her and taunted her with threats of death.

The Daly City closet measured 5½ feet by 2 feet. The San Francisco apartment closet was 5 feet by 19 inches.

At the first stop, the third-floor, now-vacant $125-a-month studio apartment in San Francisco, she arrived 15 minutes before the judge and 20 minutes before the jurors.

The jury stayed inside about 15 minutes and could be seen from the street touring the studio, apparently in single file. Neighbors peered from windows and stood on the sidewalks. The two-lane street was blocked by cars.

At the house in Daly City, now occupied by a family, neighbors stood in the drizzle and ocean mist, with the street sealed off to regular traffic. The jury stayed only five minutes and Miss Hearst was the last to leave. She was returned to her San Mateo County Jail cell.

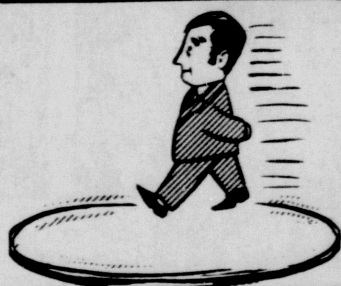

Johnson said Miss Hearst had been reluctant to revisit the closets. He said the tour was arranged, at Bailey's request, "to aid in her recollections and to accentuate in the jurors minds her testimony."

Johnson said the ordeal had left her "quite shaken." Prosecution attorneys declined to characterize the defendant's emotions.

Miss Hearst and the jurors looked at each other but did not speak, Johnson added. She was not handcuffed during her two-hour trip.

Bicycle thefts checked

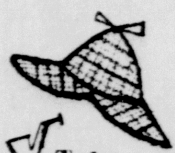

Bicycle thefts topped the list of offenses on the Washington C. H. police docket today, with the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reporting no offenses.

Larry Johns, of 112 W. Paint St., reported that a boy's bicycle valued at $20 was stolen from in front of his residence around 10 p.m. Monday. Upon investigating the complaint, police officers found a different bicycle had been placed in front of the Johns home.

An orange 10-speed bicycle valued at $110 was stolen from the front yard of the home of Charles L. Wright, 827 Briar Ave., sometime late Monday afternoon. Police are investigating the theft.

Donald Oesterle, of 722 McLean St., reported the theft of a blue and white 10-speed bicycle valued at $110, discovered missing from his front yard Tuesday morning. Police are investigating the incident.

Approximately $18 in small change and two bottles of whiskey were removed from Chick-n-Bill's tavern, 608 Delaware St., sometime during the night. A pry bar and fork were apparently used to pry open the back door. Inside the premises it was discovered that a pool table and juke box had been pryed open and emptied of change.
